TEM, It is foundin, declared, and decerned be our Sovereine Lord, with advise of the three Estaitis, and hail bodie of this present Parliament, that he nominatioun, constitution, and ordination of our said Sovereine Lords dearest Cousing, JAMES Earle of Murray, Lord Abernetbie, in Regent to his Hienes, his Realme and Liegis thereof, during the tme of his Majesties minoritie, and lesse age, specified and expressed in the Queenes Majesties Letters, under her subscripcioun and privie seale, of the date the 24. day of Julij last py-past, togidder alswa with the consent and approbation of the Earles, Lordes, Prelates, Commissioners of Burrowes, Barronnes, and uthers faithfull subjects, convened and assembled to that effect. And of new in this present Parliament, statutis and ordainis the said Act to be as ane perpetual Law, to all our Sovereine Lordis Lieges, in all times cumming. Of the quhillk the tenour followis. ITEM, the three Estaites understanding that the jurisdiction and autoritie of the Bischop of Rome, called the Pape, used within this Realme in times by-past, hes not onely bene contumelious to the Eternall God, but also very hurtfull and prejudiciall to our Sovereines autoritie, and common weill of this Realme: THEIR FOIR It is statute and ordained, that the Bischop of Rome, called the Pape, have na Jurisdiction nor autoritie within this Realme, in any time cumming. And that naue of our said Sovereines subjectis, in any times heirafter, sute or desire title or richt of the said Bischop of Rome, or his sect, to any thing within this Realme, under the paines of Barratrie, that is to say, proscription, banishment, and never to bruike honour, office, nor dignitie within this Realme. And the contraveners heirfoir to be called before the Justice or his deputies, or before the Lords of the Session, and punished therefoir, conforme to the Lawes of this Realme. And the furnischers of them, with finance of money, and purchassers of their title of richt, or maintainers, or defenders of them, fall incurre the samis paines. And that na Bischop nor uther Prelat of this Realme, use ony Jurisdiction in time cumming, be the said Bischop of Romes autoritie, under the paine foirsaid. And therefore of newe decernis and ordainis, the contraveners of the famin, in any time hereafter, to be punished according to the paines in the foresaid Act above rehearsed.

3. Anent the annulling of the Actes of Parliament, made against God his word, and maintenance of Idolatrie in ony times bypast.

ITEM, Our Soveraine Lord, with advise of his dearest Regent, and three Estaites of this present Parliament, ratifyis and appreis the Acte under-written, made in the Parliament holdin at Edinburgh, the 24. day of August, the zeir of God, ane thousand, five hundred, threescore zeires. And of new in this present Parliament statutis and ordainis the said Act, to be as a perpetuall Law to all our Soveraine Lordis liegis in all times cumming. Of the quhilk the tenour followis. THE quhilk day, For-sameikle as there hes beene divers and findrie Acts of Parliament, made in King JAMES the First, Second, Thrid, Fourth and Fifth's times, Kinges of SCOTLAND for the time, and als in our Soveraine Ladies tyme, not agreeing with Gods haly word, and be them divers perones tuke occasion to maintaine Idolatrie and superstition within the Kirk of GOD, and repressing of sik perones, as were professours of the said word, quhairthrow divers innocents did suffer. And for eschewing of sik inconvenientes in time cumming, the three Estaites of Parliament, hes annulled, and declared all sik Acts made in times bypast, not agreeing with God his word, and now contrary to the Confession of Faith, according to the said word, published in this Parliament, to be of nane availe, force nor effect. And decernis the said Acts, and every ane of them, to have na effect nor strength in time to cum, bot the samin to be abolished and extinguished for ever, in sa far as any of the foirsaidis Acts are repugnant, and contrarie to the Confessioun of Faith, and word of GOD foirsaid, ratified and approved be the Estaites in this present Parliament. And therefore decernis and ordainis, the contraveners of the samin Act, in ony time hereafter, to be punished, according to the Lawes. Of the quhilk Confession of the Faith, the tenour followes.

Beleeved and Professed be the Protestantes of SCOTLAND, exhibited to the Estatis of the same in Parliament, and be their publick votis authorized, as a doctrine grounded upon the infallible Word of God.

I. Of God.

E confesse and acknowledge ane onely GOD, to whom onelie we must cleave, whome onelie we must serve, whom onelie we must worship, and in whom onelie we must put our trust. Who is Eternal, Infinir, Unmeasurable, Incomprehensible, Omnipotent, Invisible, ane in substance, and yet distinct in three personnis, the Father, the Sonne, and the Holie Ghost. Be whom we confesse and beleave all thingis in heaven and earth, aswell Visible as Invisible, to have bene created, to be retained in their being, and to be ruled and gwyded be his inscrutable Providence, to sik end, as his Eternal Wifdome, Goodnes, and Justice hes appoynted them, to the manifestation of his awin glorie.

Mat. 28. 19. 1 John 5. 7. Gen. 1. 1. Heb. 11. 3. Act. 24. 21. Prov. 16. 4.

2. Of the Creatioun of man.

WE confesse and acknowledge, this our GOD to have created man, to wit, our first Father Adam, to his awin Image and similitude, to whome he gave wifdome, Lordship, Justice, Free-will, & cleir knowledge of himselfe, sa that in the haill nature of man, there could be nored no imperfection. Fra quhilk honour and perfection, man and woman did both fall: the woman being deceived be the Serpent, and man obeying the voyce of the woman, both conspyring against the Soveraine Majestie of GOD, who in expressed words had before threatned death, gif they presumed to eat of the forbidden tree.

Gen. 2. 26, 27, 28, &c. Colof. 3. 10. Eph. 4. 24. Gen. 3. 6. Gen. 3. 17.

3. Of Originall sinne.

BE Quhilk transgressioun, commounlie called Originall sinne, wes the Image of God utterlie defaced in man, and he and his posteritie, of nature, become Enimies to GOD, slaves to Sathan, and servandis

Rom. 7. 5.

unto sin, in fameikle that death everlasting hes had, and fall have power and dominioun, over all that have not been, ar not, or fall not be regenerated from above, quhilk regeneratioun is wrocht be the power of the holie Ghost, working in the hartes of the elect of God, ane assured faith in the promise of God, reveiled to us in his word, be quhilk Faith we apprehend Christ Jesus, with the graces and benefites promised in him.

4. Of the Revelation of the promise.

FOR This we constantlie beleeve, that God, after the feirfull and horrible defection of man fra his obedience, did seek Adam againe, call upon him, rebuke his sin, convict him of the same, and in the end made unto him ane most joyfull promise, to wit, that the seed of the woman sould break down the Serpents head, that is, he sould destroy the works of the devill. Quhilk promise, as it was repeated, and made mair cleare from time to time: so was it imbraced with joy, and maist constantlie received of all the faithfull, from Adam to Noe, from Noe to Abraham, from Abraham to David, and so forth to the incarnation of Christ Jesus, all (we meane the faithfull Fathers under the Law) did see the joyfull daie of Christ Jesus, and did rejoyce.

5. The continuance, increase, and preservatioun of the Kirk.

WE Maist constantly beleeve, that God preserved, instructed, multiplied, honoured, decored, & from death called to life, his Kirk in all ages fra Adam, till the cumming of Christ Jesus in the flesh. For Abraham he called from his Fathers cuntry, him he instructed, his seede he multiplied, the same he marvellouslie preserved, and mair marvellouslie delivered, from the bondage and tyrannie of Pharaoh, to them he gave his Lawes, constitutions and ceremonies, them he possessed in the Land of Canaan, to them after Judges and after Saul, he gave David to be King, to whome hee made promise, that of the fruite of his loynes sould ene sit for ever upon his Regall seat. To this same people from time to time he sent Prophets, to reduce them to the right way of their God: from the quhilk oftentimes they declined, be Idolatry, and albeit that for their stubborne contempt of Justice, he was compelled to give them into the hands of their enemies, as befor was threatned be the mouth of Moses, in sa-meikle that the haly Citie was destroyed, the Temple burnt with fire, and the haill Land left desolate the space of lxx. zears: Zit of mercy did he reduce them againe to Jerusalem, where the Citie and Temple were reedified, and they against all temptations and assaultes of Sathan did abide, till the Messias came, according to the promise.

6. Of the incarnation of Christ Jesus.

QUHEN The fulnes of time came, God sent his Sonne, his eternall Wisdome, the substance of his awin glory, in this world, quha tuke the nature of man-head of the substance of woman, to wit, of a Virgine, and that be operatioun of the holie Ghost: And so was borne the just seede of David, the Angel of the great Counsell of God, the very Messias promised, whome we confesse and acknowledge, Emmanuel, very God and very man, two persit natures united, and joyned in one persoun. Be quhilk our Confessioun we condemne the damnable and pestilent heresies of Arius, Marcion, Eutyches, Nestorius, and sik others, as either did denie the eternitie of his God-head, or the veritie of his humaine nature, or confounded them, or zit devided them.

7. Why it behooved the Mediator to be very God and very Man.

WE Acknowledge and confesse, that this maist wonderous conjunction betwixt the God-head and the man-head in Christ Jesus, did proceed from the eternall and immutable decree of God, from quhilk all our Salvation springs and depends.

8. Electioun.

FOR that same Eternall God and Father, who of meere grace elected us in Christ Jesus his Sonne, befoir the foundation of the world was laide, appointed him to be our head, our Brother, our Pastor, and great Bishop of our fauls. Bot because that the enmitie betwixt the Justice of God and our sins was sik, that na flesh be it selfe culd, or might have attained unto God: It behooved that the Sonne of God sould descend unto us, and take himself a bodie of our bodie, flesh of our flesh, and bone of our bones, and so become the Mediator betwixt God and man, giving power to so many as beleeve in him to be the Sonnes of God, as himselfe dois witnesse. I passe up to my Father, and unto your Father, to my God, and unto your God. Be quhilk maist holie fraternitie, quhatsoever wee have tynt in Adam, is restored unto us againe. And for this cause, ar we not affrayed to call God our Father, nor sa-meikle because he hes created us (quhilk we have common with the Reprobate) as for that, that he hes given to us his onely Sonne, to be our Brother, and given unto us grace, to acknowledge and imbrace him for our onlie Mediatour, as before is said. It be-

booyed farther the Messias and Redeemer to be very God, and very man, because he was so underlie the punishment due for our transgressions, and to present himselfe in the presence of his Fathers Judgement, as in our person, so suffer for our transgression and inobedience, be death to overcome him that was author of death. But because the onely God-head could nor suffer death, neither zit could the onlie man-head overcome the famine, he joyntly both together in one persone, that the imbecillitie of the one, sould suffer and be subject to death, (quihilk we had deserved) And the infinit and invincible power of the uther, ro wit, of the God-head; sould triumph and purchesse to us life, libertie and perpetual victory: And so we confesse, and maist undoubtedly beleve.

9. Christs death, Passion and Burial.

THAT Our Lord Jesus offered himselfe a voluntary Sacrifice unto his Father for us, that he suffered contradiction of sinners, that he was wounded and plagued for our transgressions; that hee being the cleane innocent Lamb of GOD, was damned in the presence of ane earthlie Judge, That we sould be absolved befor the tribunal fear of our God. That he suffered not onlie the cruel death of the Crosse (quihilk was accounted be the sentence of God) bot also that he suffered for a season the wrath of his Father, quihilk sinners had deserved. Bot zit we avow that he remained the onely well beloved and blessed Sonne of his Father, even in the midst of his anguish and torment, quihilk hee suffered in bodie and saule, to make the full satisfaction for the sinnes of the people. After the quihilk we confesse and avow, that there remains na uther Sacrifice for sinne, quihilk gif ony affirme, we nathing doubt to avow, that they ar blasphemous against Christs death, and the everlasting purgation and satisfaction, purchased to us be the same.

10. Resurrection.

WE undoubtedly believe, that insameikle as it was impossible; that the dolours of death sould retaine in bondage the Author of life, that our LORD JESUS crucified, dead and buried, quha descended into Hell, did rise againe for our Justification, and destroying of him quha wes the Author of death, brocht life againe to us, that wer subject to death, and to the bondage of the same. We know that his Resurrection, wes confirmed be the testimonie of his verie Enemies, be the Resurrection of the dead, quha his Sepulchres did open, and they did rise, and appeared to mony, within the Citie of Jerusalem. It was also confirmed be the testimonie of his Angels, and be the senses and Judgements of his Apostles, and of others, quha had conversation, and did eate and drink with him, after his Resurrection:

11. Ascension.

WE nathing doubt, bot the self same bodie, quihilk was borne of the Virgine, was crucified, dead, and buried, and quihilk did rise againe, did ascend into the heavens, for the accomplishment of all things: quherein our names, and for our comfort, he hes received all power in heaven and earth, quhere he sittes at the rich hand of the Father in augurate in his Kingdome, Advocate and onlie Mediator for us. Quihilk Glorie, honour, and prerogative, he alone amanges the Brethren sall possesse, till that all his Enemies be made his futesule, as that we undoubtedly beleve, they sall be in the final Judgement: To the Execution whereof we certainlie beleve, that the same our Lord JESUS sall visiblie retorne, as that hee was sene to ascend. And then wee firmly believe, that the time of refreshing and restitution of all things sall cum, in sa-meikle that thir, that fra the beginning have suffered violence, injurie, and wrang, for righteousness sake, sall inherit that blessed immortalitie promised fra the beginning. Bot contrairwise the stubborn, in-obedient, cruel oppressours, filthie personis, Idolaters, and all such sortes of unfaithfull, sall be cast in the dungoun of utter darkeness, where the worme sall not die, neither zit their fyre sall bee extinguished. The remembrance of quihilk day, and of the Judgement to be executed in the same, is not onlie to us ane brydle, whereby our carnal lustes are restrained, bot alsua sik inestimable comfort, that nether may the threatening of worldly Princes; nether zit the feare of temporal death and present danger, move us to renounce and forsake that blessed societie, quihilk we the members have with our head and onlie Mediator CHRIST JESUS; whom we confesse and avow to be the Messias promised, the onlie head of his Kirk, our just Lawgiver, our onlie hie Priest, Advocate, and Mediator. In quihilk honours and offices, gif man or Angel presume to intrude themselves, we utterlie detest and abhorre them; as blasphemous to our Sovereine and supreme Governour CHRIST JESUS.

12. Faith in the holy Ghost.

THIS Our Faith and the assurance of the same, proceeds not fra flesh and blude, that is to say, fra natural powers within us, bot is the inspiration of the holy Ghost: whome we confesse GOD equal with the Father, and with his Sonne, quha sanctifyis us, and brings us in all veritie be his awin operation. without whome we sould remaine for ever enemies to GOD, and ignorant of his Sonne Christ Jesus. For of nature we are so dead, so blind, and so perverse, that nether can we feill when we ar pricked, see the licht when it shines, nor assent to the will of God when it is reveiled, unless the Spirit of the Lord Iesus quicken that quihilk is dead, remove the darknesse from our myndes, and bowe our stubburne hearts to the obedience of his blessed will. And so as we confesse, that God the Father created us, when we were not: as his Sonne our LORD JESUS redeemed us, when wee were enemies to him: so also do we confesse that the holy Ghost doth sanctifie and regenerat us, without all respect of ony merite proceeding from us: be it before, or be it after our Regeneration. To speake this ane thing zit in mair plaine words: As we willingly spoyle our selves of all honour, and gloir of our awin creation, and redemption: so do we also of our Regeneration and Sanctification: for of our selves we ar not sufficient to think one gude thoct, bot he quaha hes begun the wark in us, is onlie he that continewis us in the same, to the praite and glorie of his un-deserved grace.

Lord

14. The cause of gude warkes.

SA That the cause of gude warkes, we confesse to be not our free-will, bot the Spirit of the LORD JESUS, who dwelling in our hearts be trewe faith, bringis furth sik warkes, as God hes prepared for us to walke in. For this wee maist boldelie affirme, that blasphemy it is to say, that Christ abydes in the heartes of sik, as in whome there is no Spirit of sanctification. And therefore we feir not to affirme, that murthers, oppressers, cruell persecuters, adulterers, huremongers, filthy persons, Idolaters, drunkards, thieves, and all workers of iniquity, have nether trewe faith, nether ony portion of the Spirit of the LORD JESUS: so long as obstinatlie they continew in their wickednes. For how soone that ever the Spirit of the Lord Iesus (quihilk Gods elect children receive be trewe faith) takis possession in the heart of ony man, so soone dois he regenerate and renew the same man. So that he beginnis to haite that quihilk before he loved, & begins to love that quihilk before he hated, and fra thine cummis that continuall battell, quihilk is betwixt the flesh and the Spirit in Gods Children: while the flesh and naturall man, according to the awin corruption, lustes for things pleisand and delectable unto the self, and grudges in adversity, is lyfted up in prosperity, and at every moment is prone and reddie to offend the Majestie of God. Bot the Spirit of God, quihilk gives witnessing to our Spirit, that we are the Sonnes of God, makis us to resist filthie pleasures, and to groane in Gods preface, for deliverance fra this bondage of corruption: And finally to triumph over sin, that it reigne not in our mortall bodyis. This battell hes not the camall men, being destitute of Gods Spirit, bot dois follow and obey sinne with greedines, and without repentance, even as the Devill, and their corrupt lustes do prick them. Bot the Sonnes of God, as before wes said, do secht against sinne, do sob and murne, when they perceive themselves tempted in iniquitie: and gif they fall, they rise againe with earnest and unfained repentance, and thir thingis they do not be their awin power, bot be the power of the Lord JESUS, without whom they were able to do nothing.

15. What warkes ar reputed gude befor God.

WE Confesse and acknowledge, that God hes given to man his holy Law, in quihilk not only ar forbidden all sik warkes as displeis and offend his Godly Majestie, bot alswa ar commanded all sik as pleis him, and as he hes promised to rewaird. And thir warkes be of twa sortes. The ane are done to the honour of God, the uther to the profite of our Nichtbouris: and both have the reveiled will of God for their assurance. To have ane God, to worship and honour him, to call upon him in all our troubles, reverence his holy name, to heare his word, to beleive the same, to communicate with his holy Sacraments, are the warkes of the first Tabill. To honour Father, Mother, Princes, Rulers, and superiour powers: to love them, to support them, zea to obey their charges (not repugning to the commandment of God) to save the lives of Innocents, to repress tyrannie, to defend the oppressed, to keepe our bodies cleane and halie, to live in sobernes and temperance, to deal justlie with all men both in word and deed: and finally, to repress all appetite of our Nichtbouris hurt, are the gude warkes of the secund Tabill, quihilk are maist pleasing and acceptabill unto God, as the warkes that are commanded be himselfe. The contrary quahirof, is sinne maist odious, quihilk alwayes displeis him, and provokes him to anger: As not to call upon him aloue, when we have need, nor to hear his word with reverence, to contemne and despise it, to have or worship Idols, to maintene and defend Idolatrie, lichtlie to esteeme the reverend name of God, to prophane, abuse, or contemne the Sacraments of Christ Iesus, to disobey or resist ony that God hes placed in Authoritie (quihill they passe not over the boundes of their office) to murder, or to consent thereto, to beare hatred, or to let Innocent blude be shed, gif wee may withstand it. And finally, the transgression of ony uther commandment in the first or secund Tabill; we confesse and affirme to be sinne, by the quihilk Gods anger and displeasure is kindled against the proud unthankfull world. So that gude warkes we affirme to be thir onlie, that are done in faith, and at Gods commandment, quaha in his Lawe hes exprest what the thingis be that pleis him. And evill warkis we affirme not only thir, that exprestly ar done against Gods commandment: bot thir alswa that in materis of Religion, and worshipping of God, hes na uther assurance bot the invention and opinioun of man: quihilk God fra the beginning hes ever rejected, as be the Prophet Ezay, and be our Maister CHRIST JESUS we ar taucht in thir words, In vaine do they worship me, teaching for doctrines the precepts of men.

16. The perfectionn of the Law, and the imperfecioun of man.

THE Law of God we confesse and acknowledge maist just, maist equall, maist halie, and maist perfite, commaunding thir thingis, quhilk being wrocht in perfectionn, were abill to give life, and abill to bring man to Eternall felicitie. Bot our nature is sa corrupt, sa weake, and sa unperfite, that we ar never abill to fulfill the warkes of the Law in perfectionn. Zea, gif we say we have na sinne, evin after we ar regenerated, we deceive our selves, and the veritie of God is not in us. And therefore, it behoovis us to apprehend Christ Jesus with his Justice and satisfaction, quha is the end and accomplishment of the Law, be quhome we ar set at this liberty, that the curse and malediction of God fall not upon us, albeir we fulfill not the same in all poyntes. For God the Father beholding us, in the body of his Sonne Christ Jesus, acceptis our imperfite obedience, as it were perfite, and covers our warkes, quhilk ar defyled with mony spots, with the Justice of his Sonne. We do not meane that we ar so set at liberty, that wee awe na obedience to the Law (for that before wee have plainly confessed) bot this we affirme, that na man in earth (Christ Jesus onlie except) hes given, gives, or shall give in worke, that obedience to the Law, quhilk the Law requiris. Bot when we have done all thingis, we must fall downe and unfeinedly confesse, that we are unprofitable servants. And therefore, quhosoever boastis themselves of the merits of their awin warkes, or put their trust in the warkes of Supererogation, boast themselves in that, quhilk is nocht, and put their trust in damnable Idolatry.

17. Of the Kirk.

AS We believe in ane God, Father, Sonne, and halie Ghaist: sa do we maist constantly believe, that from the beginning there hes bene, and now is, and to the end of the world shall be, ane Kirk, that is to say, ane company and multitude of men chosen of God, who richtly worship and imbrace him, be trew faith in Christ Jesus, quha is the only head of the same Kirk, quhilk alswa is the bodie and spouse of Christ Jesus, quhilk Kirk is Catholike, that is, universall, because it continis the Elect of all ages, of all Realmes, Nations, and Tounes, be they of the Jewes, or be they of the Gentiles, quha have communion & societie with God the Father, and with his Son Christ Jesus, throw the sanctificatioun of his haly Spirit, and therefore is it called the Communion, not of prophane persons, bot of Sanctis, quha as citizenis of the heavenly Jerusalem, have the fruitioun of the maist inestimable benefites, to wit, of ane God, ane LORD JESUS, ane Faith, and ane Baptisme: out of the quhilk Kirk, there is nouthir lyfe, nor Eternall felicitie. And therefore we utterly abhorre the blasphemie of them that affirme, that men quhilk live according to equitie and Justice, shall be saved, quhat Religioun that ever they have professed. For as without CHRIST JESUS, there is nouthir life nor Salvation: so fall there nane be participant thereof, bot sik as the Father hes given unto his Sonne CHRIST JESUS, and they that in time cum unto him, avowe his doctrine and beleve into him, (we comprehend the Children with the faithfull parentes) this Kirk is invissible, knawen onlie to God, quha alane knawis whom he hes chosen, and comprehends alswell (as said is) the Elect that be departed, commonlie called the Kirk Triumphant, and they that zit live and secht against sin and Sathan, as they that shall live hereafter.

18. The immortalitie of the Saules.

THE Elect departed are in peace and rest fra their labours: not that they sleep, and come to a certaine Oblivion, as some Phantasticks do affirme: bot that they are delivered fra all feare and torment, and all temptatioun, to quhilk we and all God his Elect are subject in this life, and therefore do beare the name of the Kirk Militant: As contrariwise, the reprobate, and un-faithfull departed have anguish, torment, & paine, that cannot be expressed. Sa that neither are the ane nor the uther in sik sleepe, that they feele nor their torment, as the Parable of Christ Jesus in the 16. of Luke, his words to the thiefe, and thir wordes of the saules crying under the Altar: O Lord, thou that art righteous and just, How lang shall thou not revenge our blude upon thir that dwellis in the Earth, dois declair.

19. Of the notes, be the quhilk the ired Kirk is decerned fra the false, and quha shall be Judge of the doctrine.

BECAUSE That Sathan from the beginning, hes laboured to deck his pestilent Synagoge with the title of the Kirk of GOD, and hes inflamed the heartes of cruell murtherers, to persecute, trouble and molest, the trewe Kirk, and members thereof, as Cain did Abel, Ismael Isaac, Eseu Jacob, and the haill Priesthead of the Jewes; Christ Jesus himselfe, and his Apostles after him. It is ane thing maist requisite, that the true Kirk be decerned fra the filthy Synagogues: be cleare and perfite nores, least we being deceived, receive and imbrace to our awin condemnation, the ane for the uther. The nores, signes, and assured takens, whereby the immaculate Spouse of Christ Jesus is knawen fra the horrible harlot, the Kirk Malignant: We affirme are neither Antiquitie, Title usurped, Lineal descent, place appoynted, nor Multitude of men approving ane error: for Cain in age and title was preferred to Abel and Setib: nor Jerusalem had prerogative above all places of the Earth, where also were the Priests lineally descended from Aaron. And greater number followed the Scribes, Pharisees, and Priestes, then unfainely beleevd and approved Christ Jesus and his doctrine: and zit as we suppose, no man of sound Judgement, will grant that any of the forenamed, were the Kirk of God. The notes therefore of the trew Kirk of God, we beleieve, confesse and avow to be, first the trew preaching of the word of God, unto the quhilk God hes revealed himselfe unto us, as the writings of the Prophets and Apostles dois declair. Secondly, the right administration of the Sacraments of Christ Jesus, quhilk mon be annexed unto the word and promise of God, to seale and confirme the same in our hearts. Last, Ecclesiastical discipline uprightlie ministred, as God his word prescribes, whereby vice is repressed, and vertew nursid. Whersoever then thir former notes are seene, and of any time continue (be the number never so fewe about two or three) there without all doubt is the trew Kirk of Christ: who according unto his promise, is in the midst of them. Nor that universal, of quhilk we have before spoken, bot particular, sik as was in Corinthus, Galatia, Ephesus, and other places, in quhilk the Ministrie was plantid by Paul, and were of himselfe named the Kirks of God: and sik Kirks, we the inhabitantis of the Realme of SCOTLAND, professours of Christ Jesus, professis ourselfis to have in our Cities, Townes, and places reformed, for the doctrine taught in our Kirks, contained in the written worde of God, to wit, in the buiks of the auld, and new Testaments, in those buiks we meane, quhilk of the ancient have bene reputed canonical. In the quhilk we affirme, that all thingis necessary to be beleevd, for the salvation of man-kinde, is sufficiently expresed. The interpretation quhair of, wee confesse, neither appertaines to private, nor publick persone, neither zit to any Kirk, for ony preheminance, or prerogative personallie or localle, quhilk ane hes above ane uther, bot appertaines to the Spirite of God, be the quhilk also the Scripture was written. When controversie then happenis, for the right understanding of any place or sentence of Scripture, or for the reformation of any abuse within the Kirk of God, we ought not fa-meikle to like what men before us have said or done, as unto that quhilk the haly Ghaist uniformelic speakes, within the body of the Scriptures, and unto that quhilk Christ Jesus himselfe did, and commanded to be done. For this is ane thing universallie granted, that the Spirite of God, quhilk is the Spirite of Unitie, is in nathing contrarious unto himselfe. Gif then the interpretation, determination, or sentence of any Doctor, Kirk, or Councell, repugne to the plaine worde of God, written in any uther place of the Scripture, it is a thing maist certaine, that there is not the true understanding and meaning of the haly Ghaist, although that Councells, Realmes, and Nations have approved and received the same: For we daren not receive nor admit any interpretation, quhilk repugnes to any principal poynt of our faith, or to any uther plaine text of Scripture, or zit unto the rule of charite.

20. The authoritie for the Scriptures.

AS We beleieve and confesse the Scriptures of God sufficient to instruct, and make the man of God persite: so do we affirme, and avow the authoritie of the same, to be of God, and nether to depend on men, nor Angels. Wee affirme therefore, that sik as allege the Scripture, to have na uther authoritie, bot that quhilk it hes received from the Kirk, to be blasphemous against God, and injurious to the trew Kirk, quhilk alwayes heares and obeyis the voyce of her awin spouse and Pastor, bot takes not upon her to be Maistres over the famin.

21. Of general Councells, of their Power, Authoritie, and cause of their Convention.

AS We do not rashlie damne that quhilk godly men assembled together in generall Councell lawfully gathered, have proponed unto us, so without just examination, dare we not receive quharsoever is obrudged unto us by men under the name of general Councells: for plaine it is, as they wer men, so have some of them manifestlie erred, and that in matters of great weight and importance. So farre then, as the Councell previs the determination and commandment that it gives, bee the plaine worde of God: so soome do we reverence and embrace the same. Bot gif men under the name of a Councell, pretend to forge unto us, new Articleles of our faith, or to make constitutionis repugning to the word of God: then utterlie we must refuse the same, as the doctrine of Devils, quhilk drawis our faules from the voyce of our oilie God, to follow the doctrines and constitutionis of men. The cause then quhy that generall Councellis convened, was nether to make any perpetual Law, quhilk God before had not maid, nether zit to forge new Articleles of our beleife, nor to give the word of God authoritie, meikle les to make that to be his word, or zit the trew interpretation of the same, quhilk was not before, be his haly will, expresed in his word: bot the cause of Councellis (we meane of sik as merite the name of Councellis) was partlie for confutation of heresies, and for giving publick confession of their faith, to the posterite following, quhilk baith they did by the authoritie of Gods written word; and not by any opinion or prerogative, that they culd not erre, be reason of their generall assemble: And this we judge to have bene the chiefe cause of general Councellis. The uther was for guide policie and ordour, to be constitute and observed in the Kirk, quhilk (as in the house of God) it becommis all thingis to be done decently and in ordour. Nor that we think, that any policie, and an ordour in Ceremonies, can be appoynted for all ages, times and places: for as ceremonies, sik as men have devised, ar bot temporal: so may and aucht they to be changed, when they rather foster superstition, then that they edifie the Kirk, using the same.

22. Of the Sacramentes.

AS The Fatheris under the Law, besides the veritie of the Sacrifices, had twa chiefe Sacramentes, to wit, Circumcision, and the Passe-over, the despisers and contemners whereof, were not reputed of Gods people: so do we acknowledge and confesse, that we now in the time of the Evangell, have twa chiefe Sacramentes, onelie instituted be the Lord Jesus, & commanded to be used of all they, that will be reputed members of his body: To wit, Baptisme, and the supper or Table of the Lord Jesus, called the Communion of his body and blude. And thir Sacramentes alsweill of auld, as of new Testament, now instituted of God, not onelie to make ane visible difference, betwixt his people, and they that was without his league: but also to exerce the faith of his Children, and be participation of the same Sacramentes, to seill in their hearts the assurance of his promise, and of that most blessed conjunction, union and societie, quhilk the elect have with their head Christ Jesus. And thus wee utterlie damne the vanitie of they, that affirme Sacramentes to be nothing else but naked and baire signes. No, we assuredlie beleewe, that be Baptisme, we ar ingrafted in Christ Jesus, to be made partakers of his Justice, be quhilk our sinnes ar covered and remitted. And alsua, that in the Supper richtlie used, CHRIST JESUS is so joyned with us, that hee becommis very nourishment and fude of our faules. Not that we imagine anie transubstantiatioun of Bread into Christes body, and of Wine into his naturall blude, as the Papistes have perniciouslie taucht, and damnable beleevd: but this unioin and conjunction, quhilk we have with the body and blude of Christ Jesus in the richt use of the Sacraments, is wrocht be operatioun of the haly Ghaist, who by trew faith caryis us above all things that are visible, carnall, and earthly, and makes us to feede upon the body and blude of Christ Jesus, quhilk wes anes broken and shed for us, quhilk now is in heaven, and appearis in the presence of his Father for us: And zit notwithstanding the far distance of place, quhilk is betwixt his body, now glorified in Heaven, and us now mortall in this earth: zit we man assuredlie beleewe, that the bread quhilk we break, is the communion of Christes bodie, and the cupe quhilk we blesse, is the communion of his blude. So that we confesse, and undoubtedlie believe, that the faithfull in the richt use of the Lords Table, do fo eat the bodie and drinke the blude of the Lord Jesus, that he remains in them, and they in him. Zea, they are so maid flesch of his flesch, and bone of his bones, that as the eternall God-head hes given to the flesch of Christ Jesus (quhilk of the awin condition and nature wes mortall and corruptible) life and immortalitie: so dois Christ Jesus his flesch and blude eatin and drun kin be us, give unto us the same prerogatives. Quhilk albeit we confesse, ar nether given unto us at that time onelie, nether zit be the proper power and vertue of the Sacrament onelie: zit we affirme that the faithfull, in the richt use of the Lords Table, hes conjunction with Christ Jesus: as the naturall man cannot apprehend: zea, and farther wee affirme, that albeit the faithfull oppressed be negligence, and namelie infirmite, dois not profite sameikle, as they wald, in the verie instant action of the Supper: zit fall it after bring frute furth, as livelie seid fawin in gude ground. For the haly Spirit, quhilk can never be divided fra the richt institutioun of the Lord Jesus, will not frustrat the faithfull of the fruit of that mysticall action, but all thir we say cummis of trew faith, quhilk apprehendis Christ Jesus; who only makis this Sacrament effectuell unto us. And therefore whosoever sclanders us, as that we affirme or belevis Sacraments to be naked and baire Signes, do injurie unto us, and speaks against the manifest truth. But this liberalie and franklie wee confesse, that we make ane distinctioun betwixt Christ Jesus in his eternall substance, and betwixt the Elements of the Sacramentall Signes. So that wee will nether worship the Signes, in place of that quhilk is signified be them, nether zit doe we despise and interpret them, as unprofitable and vaine, but do use them with all reverence, examining our selves diligentlie, before that so we do. Because we are assured be the mouth of the Apostle, that sik as eat of that bread, and drink of that cupe unworthelie, are guiltie of the bodie and blude of Christ Jesus.

23. Of the richt administratioun of the Sacramentes.

THAT Sacraments be richtlie ministrat, we Judge twa things requisite: The ane, that they be ministrat be lauchfull Ministers, whom we affirme to be onely they, that ar appointed to the preaching of the word, into quihais mowthes God hes put sum Sermon of exhortation, they being men lauchfullie chosen thereto be sum Kirk. The uther, that they be ministrat in sik elements, and in sik fort, as God hes appointed, else we affirme that they cease to be the richt Sacraments of Christ Jesus. And therefore it is, that we sly the doctrine of the Papistlicall Kirk, in participation of their Sacraments: first, because their Ministers are na Ministers of Christ Jesus, zea (quhilk is mair horrible) they suffer wemen, whome the haly Ghaist will not suffer to teache in the Congregatioun, to Baptize: and secundly, because they have so adulterated both the one Sacrament and the uther, with their awin inventions, that no part of Christs action abydes in the originall puritie. For Oyle, Salt, Spittil, and sik-lyke in Baptisme, ar bot mennis inventions. Adoration, Veneration, bearing throw streitis and townes, and keiping of bread in boxes or buistes, ar phanatioun of Christs Sacraments, and na use of the same. For Christ Jesus saide, Take, eat &c. do ze this in remembrance of me. Be quhilk word and charge, he sanctified bread and wine, to the Sacrament of his haly bodie and blude, to the end, that the ane suld be eaten, and that all suld drinke of the uther, and of that thay suld be kepted to be worshipped and honoured, as God, as the Papistes have done heirtofore. Who also committed sacrilege, steilling from the people the ane parte of the Sacrament, to wit, the blessed bleſſed cupe. Moreover, that the Sacraments be richtly uſed, it is required, that the end and cauſe, why the Sacramentis were inſtitute, bee underſtand and obſerved, alſweill of the Miniſter, as of the receiveris. For gif the opinion be changed in the receiver, the richt uſe ceaſſis, quhilk is maift evident, be the rejection of the Sacrifice, as alſo gif the teacher planely teache ſals doctrine, quhilk were odious and abhominable before God (albeit they were his awin ordinance) becauſe that wicked men uſe them to an uther end, then God hes ordained. The ſame affirme we of the Sacraments in the Papiſticall Kirk: in quhilk we affirme the haill action of the Lord Jeſus to be adulterated, alſweill in the externall forme, as in the end and opinion. Quhat Chriſt Jeſus did, and commanded to be done, is evident, be the Evangelifteſ, and be Saint Paul: quhat the Preiſt dois at his Altar, we neid not to rehearſe. The end and cauſe of Chriſts inſtitution, and why the ſelſe ſame ſuld be uſed, is expreſſed in thir words, Doe ze this in remembrance of me, alſ oft as ze ſall eat of this bread, and drinke of this Cupe, ze ſall ſhaw furth, that is, extol, preach, magnifie, and praiſe the Lords death, till he cum. Bot to quhat end, and in what opinioun the Prieſtes ſay their Meſſe, let the worde of the ſame, their awin Doctouris and wrytings witneſ. To wit, that they, as Mediatoris betuixt Chriſt, and his Kirk, do offer unto God the Father, a Sacrifice propitiatorie, for the Sinnes of the quick and the dead. Quhilk doctrine, as blaſphemous to Chriſt Jeſus, and making derogation to the ſufficiencie of his only Sacrifice, once offered for purgation of all they that ſall be ſanctified, we utterly abhorre, deteſt and renounce.

24. To whome Sacraments appertaine.

WE Confesse and acknowledge, that Baptiſme apperteinis aſweill to the infants of the faithfull, as unto them that be of age and diſcretion, and ſo we damne the error of the Anabaptiſts, who denies baptiſme to appertene to Children, before that they have faith and underſtanding: bot the Supper of the Lord, we confeſſe to appertaine to ſik onely, as be of the houſhold of Faith, and can trie and examine themſelves, alſweill in their faith, as in their dewtie towards their Nichtbouris. Sik as eate and drink at that haly Table without faith, or being at diſſention and diviſion with their Brethren; do ear unworthelie: And therefore it is that in our Kirk, our Miniſters take publick and particular examination, of the knowlege and converſation of ſik, as are to be admitted to the Table of the Lord Jeſus.

25. Of the Civill Magiſtrate.

WE Confesse and acknowledge Emphyres, Kingdomes, Dominiouns, and Citties, to be diſtincted and ordained be God: the powers and authoritie in the ſame, be it of Emperours in their Emphyres, of Kings in their Realmes, of Dukes and Princes in their Dominiouns, and of uthers Magiſtrates in the Citties, to be Gods haly ordinance, ordained for maniſeſtation of his awin glory, and for the ſingular profite and commoditie of mankind: So that whoſoever goeth about to take away, or to confound the haill ſtate of Civile policies, now long eſtabliſhed: we affirme the ſame men, not onely to be enimies to mankind, but alſo wickedly to ſecht againſt God his expreſſed will. Wee farther confeſſe and acknowledge, that ſik perfouris, as are placed in authoritie, art to be loved, honoured, feared, and halden in moſt reverent eſtimation: becauſe that they are the Lieutenents of God, in whoſe Seſſiouns, God himſelf dois ſit, and Judge: zea, even the Judges and Princes themſelves, to whom be God is given the ſword, to the praiſe and deſenſe of gude men, and to revenge and puniſh all open malefactoris. Maitover to Kings, Princes, Rulers and Magiſtrates. wee affirme that chieſlie and moſt principallie the conſervation and purgation of the Religioun appertaines, ſo that not onlie they are appointed for Civill policie, bot alſo for maintenance of the trew Religioun, and for ſuppreſſing of Idolatrie and Superſtitious whatſoever. As in David, Joſaphat, Ezechias, Joſias, and uthers highlie commended for their zeale in that caice, may be eſpyed. And therefore wee confeſſe and avow, that ſik as reſiſt the ſupreme power, doing that thing quhilk appertains to his charge, do teſtiſt God his ordinance: And therefore cannot be guiltles. And farther we affirme, that whoſoever denies unto them ayde, their Counſell and comfort, quhiles the Princes and Rulers vigilantly travell in execution of their office, that the ſame men deny their help, ſupport and Counſell to God, quha be the preſence of his Lieu-tennent, dots crave it of them.

26. The giſtes freeſlie given to the Kirk.

ALBEIT That the word of God trewly preached, and the Sacraments richtlie miniſtred, and Diſcipline executed, according to the word of God, be the certaine and infallible Signes of the trew Kirk, we meane not that everie particular perſon joyned with ſik company, be an Elect member of CHRIST JEſUS: For we acknowledge and confeſſe, that Dornell, Cockell, and Caſſe, may be ſawen, grow, and in great abundance lie in the miſt of the Wheat, that is, the Reprobate may be joyned in the ſocietie of the Elect, and may externally uſe with them the benefites of the word and Sacramentis. Bot ſik being bot temporall profeſſours in mouth, bot not in heart, do fall backe and continew not to the end. And therefore have they na fruite of Chriſts death, Reſurrection, nor Aſcenſion: bot ſik as with heart unfainedly beleve, and with mouth bauldely confeſſe the Lord Jeſus, as before we have ſaid, ſall moſt aſſuredly receive thir giſtes. Firſt in this liſe remiſſion of ſinnes, and that be onely faith in Chriſts blude.

In fameikle, that albeit sinne remaine and continuallie abyde, in thir our mortall bodies, zit it is not imputed unto us, bot is remitted, and covered with Christs Justice. Secondly, in the generall Judgement, there shall be given to every man and woman resurrection of the flesh. For the Sea shall give her dead; the Earth they that therein be inclosed, zea the Eternall our God shall stretch out his hand on the dust, and the deade shall arise uncorruptible, and that in the substance of the selfe same flesh that every man now beiris, to receive according to their warkes, glory, or punishment. For sik as now delyte in vanity, cruelty, filthyenes, superstition; or Idolatry, shall be adjudged to the fire unquenecheable. In quihilk they shall be tormented for ever, allswell in their awin bodies, as in their saules, quihilk now they give to serve the Devill in all abhominacion. Bot sik as continew in weil doing to the end, bauldely professing the Lord Jesus: we constantly beleeve, that they shall receive glorie, honour, and immortality, to reigne for ever in life everlasting, with Christ Jesus, to whose glorified body all his Elect, shall be made lyke, when he fall appeir againe in Judgement, and fall rander up the Kingdome to God his Father, who then shall bee, and ever fall remaine all in all things God blessed for ever. To whome with the Sonne, and with the haly Ghaist, be all honour and glorie, now and ever. So be it.

5. Anent the Messe abolished, and punishing of all that bear is or sayis the samin.

ITEM, Our Sovereine Lord, with advise of his dearest Regent, and the three Estaitis of this present Parliament ratifyis and appreyves the Act under written, maid in the Parliament halden at Edinburgh the 23. day of August, the zeir 1560. zeires. And of new in this present Parliament statuts and ordainis, the said Act to be as an perpetuall Law, to all our Sovereine Lords lieges in all times to cum; Of the quihilk, the renour followes. The quihilk day, for sameikle as almighty God be his maist trew and blessed word, hes declared the reverence, and honour quihilk suld be given unto him. And be his Sonne JESUS CHRIST hes declared the trew use of the Sacraments, willing the same to be used, according to his will and word. Be quihilk it is notour, and perfetlie knawen, that the Sacramentes of Baptisme, and of the Bodie and Blend of JESUS CHRIST, hes bene in all times by-past corrupted, be the Papistick Kirk, and be their usurped Ministers. And presencly, notwithstanding the reformatioun already made, according to Gods word: Zit there is sum of the said Papist Kirk, that stubbumely prefeveris in their wicked Idolatrie, sayand Messe, and Baptizand, conforme to the Papist Kirk, prophanand therethrow the Sacraments soirsaides, in quiet and secreete places, therethrow nouthir regardand God, nor his word. T H E R E F O I R E, It is statute and ordained in this present Parliament, that na maner of persoun, or personis, in onie time cumming, administrat ony of the Sacraments soirsaides, secretly, or ony uthir maner of way, but they that are admitted, and havand power to that effect. And that na maner of persoun nor personis, say Messe, nor zit hear Messe, nor be present thairat, under the paine of confiscatioun of all their gudis movabill, and unmovabill, and punishing of their bodies at the discretioun of the Magistrat, within quhais Jurisdictioun sik personis happinnis to be apprehended, for the first fault. Banishment of the Realme, for the second fault: And Justifying to the death, for the thrid fault. And ordainis all Schireffes, Stewards, Baillies, and their deputies, Provestes, and Baillies of Burrowes, and uthers Judges quhatsumever, within this Realme, to take diligent sute and inquisitioun, within their bounds, quhair ony sik usurped Ministerie is used, Messe saying, or they that beis present at the doing thereof, ratifyand, and approovand the samin, take and apprehend them, to the effect, that the paines above writen may be execute upon them. And therefore of new decernis, and ordaines the contraveners of the samin, in ony tyme heirafter, to be punished according to the paines of the aforesaid Acte above rehearfed.

6. Anent the trew and haly Kirk, and of them that ar declared not to be of the samin.

ITEM, For sameikle as the Ministets of the blessed Evangell of JESUS CHRIST whom God of his Imercie hes now raised up amangst us, or heirafter shall rayse, agreeing with them that now livis, in doctrine and administratioun of the Sacraments, and the peopill of this Realme, that professis CHRIST, as he now is offered in his Evangell, and do communicat with the haly Sacraments (as in the reformed Kirkes of this Realme they are publickly administrat) according to the Confessioun of the Faith: Our Sovereine Lord, with advise of my Lord Regent, and three Estaitis of this present Parliament, hes declared, and declaris, the foresaid persones, to be the onely true and haly Kirk of JESUS CHRIST Within this Realme. And decernis and declaris, that all and findrie, quha outhir gainfayis the word of the Evangell, received and approved, as the heades of the Confessioun of Faith professed in Parliament before, in the zeir of God 1560. zeires, as also specified in the Actes of this Parliament mair particularlie dois expresse, and now ratified and approved in this present Parliament, or that refusis the participatioun of the halle Sacramentes, as they are now Ministrat, To be na members of the said Kirke, within this Realme now presently professed, sa long as they keep themselves sa divided fra the Society of Christs Bodie.

7. Admission of Ministers: of laick Patronages.

ITEM, It is statute, and ordained be our Sovereine Lord, with advise of his dearest Regent, and three Estaitis of this present Parliament, that the examination and admission of Ministers, within this Realme, be only in the power of the Kirk, now openlie, and publickly professed within the samin. The presentation of laick Patronages alwaies reserved to the Just and auncient Patrones. And that the Patroun present ane qualified person, within sex Monethes (after it may cum to his knowledge, of the decease of him, quha bruiked the Benefice before) to the Superintendent of thay partis, quhair the Benefice lyes, or others havand commission of the Kirk to that effect; utherwaies the Kirk to have power to dispone the samin to ane qualified person for that time.

PROVIDING that in caise the Patron present ane person qualified to his understanding, and faileing of ane, ane uther within the said sex Moneths, and the said Superintendent or Commissioner of the Kirk, refusis to receive and admit the person presented be the Patron, as said is: It fall be lesum to the Patron to appeale to the Superintendent, and Ministers of that Province quhair the Benefice lyes, and desire the person presented to be admitted, quhilk gif they refuse, to appeale to the generall Assemblie of this haille Realme, be quhome the cause beand decyded, fall take end, as tney decerne and declair.

ITEM, Because that the increase of vertew, and suppressing of Idolatrie craves, that the Prince and the people be of ane persite Religioun, quhilk of Gods mercie is now presently professed within this Realme: THEREFORE It is statute, and ordained be our Sovereine Lord, my Lord Regent, and the three Estaites of this present Parliament, that all Kinges and Princes, or Magistrates whatsoever, holding their place, quhilkis hereafter in any time fall happen to reigne, and beare rule over this Realme, at the time of their Coronatioun, and receipt of their Princely authoritie, make their faithfull promise be aith, in presence of the Eternall God, That induring the haille cours of their lives, they fall serve the samin Eternall God, to the uttermost of their power, according as he hes required in his maist haly word, reveiled and contained in the new and auld Testaments. And according to the samin worde fall mainteine the trew Religion of Christ Jesus, the preaching of his halle word, and dew and richt ministratioun of the Sacraments now received, and preached within this Realme: And fall abolish and gainstand all fals Religioun contrare to the samin: And fall rule the peopill committed to their charge, according to the will and command of God, reveiled in his foresaide word, and according to the lovabill Lawes, and constitutions received in this Realme, na wise repugnant to the said word of the Eternall God. And fall procure to the uttermoist of their power, to the Kirk of God; and haille Christian peopill, trew and persite peace in all time cumming. AND Furder, that the saidis Prelates, and others benefieed perſones, may have their reliefe of their saidis vassalles, sewars, tackef-men, and pensioners, to their greater ease, and lesse trouble, to their saids vassalles, and others foresaidis, And to the effect that everie man proportionally, may pay his part of the said taxation, according to the quantitie and avails of the free rente that he hes of his landes and teind scheaves, pertaining to him, alswell the Prelate himſelfe, as the sewar or tackef-man: It is thoct expedient, statute and ordained, that the saidis Prelates, fall everie ane of them severallie convene his hail sewars, vassalles, and tackef-men, at sik convenient place as hee thinkis meetest: And cause summond them personallie, or at their dwelling places, for that effect: And being convened, the saidis Prelates and benefieed perſones, fall schaw to their saids vassalles, the quantitie of the taxation imposed upon them, and they with ane consent, fall distribut the samin to be payed be everie man. Bot that in all time cumming, their saidis erections, fall pay the taxaciones, to be hereafter imposed, as uther Temporal livings within this Realme: And this nawaies to prejudice or derogate in onie waies to their saidis erections. AND Sik-like, it is statute and ordained, that all dissolved benefices within this Realme, fall be subject in payment of sameikle of the said taxation, pro rata, as they would have bene subject to give, swa the samin had not bene dissolved: And therefore, that letters be direct chargeing the present possessor of the saids dissolved benefices, everie ane of them for their awin partes, to pay proportionallie their parte of the said taxation, to the quantitie that the samin benefice would have bene taxt to, gif the samin benefice had not bene dissolved, as said is, within twentie daies nixt after they be charged thereto, under the paine of rebellion &c. And gif they failzie &c. To denunce &c. AND Sik-like, because that at this present, there ar findrie Prelacies vaikand, undissolved, to onie person or perſones quhar-sum-ever: Therefore it is statute and ordained, that the said Collectour Generall, fall use the like forme be himſelfe, or some uther sufficient qualified person in his name, with the sewars, vassalles, and tackef-men of the saidis vaikand benefices, that is prescribed and set downe of before, to be done be the Prelates, and uthers benefieed men, in the distributing of the said taxation, as said is: And the saidis Estaites authorizis the said Collectour generall, of this present taxation, in the verie place of ane provided Prelate to the saids vaikand benefices, for this effect allanely. And gif they failzie &c. to denunce &c. and to efcheir. Or else, that the saidis Schireffes, Stewards, Baillies and their deputies poynd and distreinzie therefore: As they fail thinke maist meete and expedient: And that the saidis Earles, Lordes, Barronnes, and Free-holders, have sik-like letters for their reliefe, against their vassalles, sub-vassalles, Ladies of Terce, conjunct-feares, and life-renters.

AND Because there ar diverse and findrie Barronnies, within this Realme, dismembred, and the Barronnes of the saidis Barronnies in time by-gane, hes had na reliefe pro tanto, of sa-meikle of the said Barronnie, as wes dis-membred, against all reason, seeing that the Schiteffe, Steward, or Baillie, or their deputies, without onie regard, charged the present Barronne, of the said Barronnie, for the hail taxation of the samin, as gif na part thereof were dis-membred: Therefore it is statute and ordained, that all sik parties of onie Barronnie, as ar dis-membred therefra, fall be retoured be the Schireffe of the Schire, quhair the samin lyes, to the avails and quantitie proportional, of the hail Barronnie: And being retoured, the said Barronne fall have letters of reliefe, against the heretoures of the said dis-membred part of the Barronnie for relieving of him, of sa-meikle of the said taxation, as the samin landes fall be retoured unto, be the Schireffe, within twentie dayes nixt after the charge, under the paine of rebellion &c. And gif they failzie &c. To denunce &c.

AND FURDER, It is statute and ordained, that all the Stewardest and Baillies of onie part of his Hienes ^{The King's} propertie, fall with all convenient expedition, cause retour the hail landes of the famin, everie ane within his awin boundes and jurisdiction, and that to the famin avale, quantitie and proportion, as onie uther landes lyand nixt adjacent to the same, halden of his Majestie, ar set or retoured to: having neverthelesse ane speciall regard to the free-rent, that the sewars and rentallers hes of the same lands, beside their few-fermes and dewties payed be them, to our Sovereine Lord: Quhilkis landes being retoured, as said is: It is ordained that letters be direct be the said Collectour of this present taxation, charging the saidis Stewardest and Baillies, to raise and up-lift the summe of fourtie shillings of evcrie pound lande, that his said Hienesse propertie fall be retoured to, everie ane within his awin jurisdiction, and in-bring and deliver the same to the said Collectour, betwixt and the said fiftenth day of March nixt-to-cum, under the paine of rebellion, &c. And gif they failzie, &c. to denunce, &c. And for their reliefe, that letters be direct, chargeing all and sundrie sewars, rentallers, tennents, and tacke-men of his Hienes propertie, to make payment and deliverance to the saidis sewars, Baillies, their depures and Clerkes, ilk ane of them for their awin partes, the summe particularlie abone written, for everie pound land, that their saidis landes fall be stented or retoured to, within xx. dayes, nixt after the charge, under the paine of rebellion &c. And gif they failzie, &c. To denunce &c. And gif need beis, that the saidis Stewardest and Baillies poynd and distreinzie therefore, as they fall think maist meete and expedient. And because his Majesties propertie hereof, hes nawayes bene in use and consuetude of payment of ony part of ony taxations granted heretofore, neither did they relieve the rest of the Lieges, of ony parte of the famin. His Hienesse and Estaites foresaidis, thinkis it maist meete and expedient, that the said taxation be up-lifted fra the saidis sewars, tennentes and tacke-men, of his Hienesse propertie, fall be na-wayes accompted nor allowed in part of the said summe of twa hundred thousand markes; bot the famin summe to be up-lifted, according to the division abone written: And the summes to be up-lifted of the landes of his Hienesse propertie, to be maid compt of be the said Collectour, over and beside the summe of twa hundred thousand markes, granted, as said is: Providing alwayes that the famin be na-wayes employed nor bestowed to ony use quhat-sum-ever, except to the famin effect that the uther great summe abone written.

AND For in-bringing of the Burrowes part of the said taxation, that letters be direct, chargeing the Provost and Baillies of ilk Burgh, to make payment of the taxe and stent thereof, to the saidis Collectour ^{The Burrowes part of the taxation.} generall, at the time abone specified, under the paine of rebellion &c. And gif they failzie &c. To denunce &c. And for their reliefe: That letters be direct, chargeing all and sundrie inhabitantes of ilk Burgh, to convene and elect certaine persones, to stent their nichtbours: And the said election being maid, to charge the persones elect, to accept the charge upon them, in setting of the saide stent-upon the inhabitantes of ilk Burgh: And to convene and set the famin, and make ane stent roll there-upon, as escheiris, within twentie four houres, nixt after they bee charged thereto, under the payne of rebellion &c. And sik-like, the saide stent-roll being maid and set, as said is, to charge the Burgesies, inhabitantes and nichtbours of ilk Burgh, to make payment of their partes of the said stent, to the saidis Provost and Baillies, conforme to the tax-roll, to be maid and given out there-upon, within three dayes, nixt after the charge, under the paine of rebellion &c. And gif neede beis, to denunce &c. And escheit &c. And gif neede beis, that the saidis Provost and Baillies poynd and distreinzie therefore, as they thinke maist meete and expedient. IT IS ALWAIES Provided, that na person quhat-sum-ever be stented or taxt within Burgh, except according to the avale and quantitie of his rente, living, guddes, and geare that he hes within Burgh, nawayes respectand his landes and possessions, quhilkis helies to Landwart, for the quhilkis hee will be obliged to pay taxation to uthers officers. ATTOUR, THE Saidis Estaites considering the manifold abuse that hes bene used in all times by-gane, be sundrie of the Lieges, against all gude conscience, in causing their puir Fermorers and labourers of their ground, being removeable, quha was subject in payment of verie deare fermes, to relieve them of the hail burden of the saide taxation, quhilk hes bene the occasion of the im-poverishing of ane great number of the saidis Fermorers, and bringing of them to utter wrack and ruin. ^{Fermorers removeable sould be free.} Quhairas of reason, the saidis tennentes, sould be togidder free from the payment of onie taxation: And the famin sould be payed be sik as hes free-rent, landes, and guddes of their awin: For remeid quhair of, It is statute and ordained, that na person quhat-sum-ever, exact or compell his tennentes and Fermorers removeable, quha payis him ferme for the landes occupied be them, to pay ony parte of this present taxation, or to sure reliefe for the famin, at their handes. And gif the famin beis found done be ony persones, that they fall be called and convened before his Hienesse Justice and his depures, as violent and maisterfull oppressours of his Hienesse subjectes, and punished therefore, according to Justice.

3. Act in favours of the Vassels of the Earledome of Gowrie:

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD and haill Estaites of this present Parliament, remembreing the good and notable act, made in his Majesties Parliament halden at Strivling in the Moneth of August, the yeare of God 1571. yeares, in favours of his Heighnes true and faithfull subjects, for bruiking of their lands, heritages, annuelrents, lyfrents, pensionis or possessions whatsover halden of any person, called and forfeited in the said Parliament, notwithstanding the forfeaulting of their Superiours thereof. And his Heighnes now being willing and fullie resolved to renew the foresaid act, and to grant the benefite and favour therein contained, to all his faithfull and true subjects who or their Predicessours to whom they are heires; at the least apperaund heires, albeit as yet not entered, held lands, heritages, annuelrents, lyfrents, mylnes, woods, fishinges, or other possessions whatsover, of umquhile John sometime Earle of Gowrie, or any of his Predicessours. Therefore Our said SOVERAIGNE LORD, with advise of the saids Estaites & whole bodie of this present Parliament, statutes, ordeines and declares, that all his Heighnes faithfull and true subjects, their heires and Successours, being nowyse culpable of the abhominable and horrible crymes of treason and lese-Majestie, attempted by the said umwhile John sometime Earle of Gowrie, against his Grace, most noble Person, shall bruike and possesse all their lands, heritages, woods, mylnes, fishinges, annuelrents, lyfrents, racks, reppalles and possessions whatsover halden by them, or their Predicessours of the saids umwhile John sometime Earle of Gowrie, or his Predicessours, and hald the samin of Our said SOVERAIGNE LORD, his Heighnes Successours and others, their next immediat superiours, their heires and Successours, conforme to their investments, rights and securities thereof in all poyntes. Siklike and als frelie in all respects as if the processe and doome of forfeaultrie had never bene led, deduced not pronounced against the said John sometime Earle of Gowrie in this present Parliament. And als notwithstanding the acte made in his Heighnes Parliament halden at Edinburgh the aught day of June the yeare of God 1594. yeares, annulling the Acts of Parliament, made in favours of vassels, of persons forfeaulted. To the whilk act, and all others acts, statutes, or constitutions; made at any time of before, and made or to be made, in this present Parliament, thir presents makes and shall make full derogation: and that annullie in favours of the saids persons, who, or their Predicessours held lands, heritages, and others foresaids of the said unquihile Johne formerime Earle of Gowrie, or his Predicessours, as said is. The foresaids vassels, and every one of them payand to his Majestie, and his Successours, or any others their next immediat superiours, for ilk twentie shilling land, whilk they held of before of the said Earle of Gowrie, ten pounds money of this Realme betwix and Whitsonday next to come, for composition.

4. Anent invading and persewing of Counsellors.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estaites of this present Parliament, understanding that diverse of the Lords of his Heighnes Secret Counsell and Session, and others of his Heighnes Officers, for the discharge of their bounden dutie in his Heighnes service, incurre the haitred, indignation, malice and feed of fundrie persons, who often tymes quarrels them, without any just cause. Therefore, Statutes and ordeines, that what-som-ever person in tyme coming, invades or persewes any of his Heighnes Session, Secret Counsell, or any his Heighnes Officers, it being verified and tryed, that any of the saids Counsellors, Sessioners and Officers, was persewed and invaded for doing of his Heighnes service, shall be punished to the death.

5. Anent Purpursion in the Kings Commonities.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estaites of this present Parliament, considering that his Heighnes, and his Heighnes Predicessours, for the helpe and releef of his poore commonns, in diverse parts of this Realme, hes reserved great quantitie of Moores, and others common lands, nowyse disposed in propertie, to any particular person. Notwithstanding whereof diverse persons, hes riven out, parked, tilled, sawne, and laboured great portions of the famin commonities, without any right of propertie competent to them, to the prejudice of his Heighnes, and utter wrack of the poore tennents and commons of this Realme. Therefore, Statutes and ordeines that all persons, who hes tilled, laboured, sawne, parked, inclosed, or appropriat any part or portion of his Majesties common Moores, or others commonities, belonging to his Heighnes, within the memorie of man; the famin being tryed, either by way of molestation, or by the Lords of the Session, that they within yeare and day, after the said tryell, lay in the famin commonities againe: to the effect the famine may remaine unlaboured or parked in any time thereafter; but to remaine as commonitie, siklike and in the famin maner as it was before the riving out or parking thereof. And gif they failie to doe the famine, within the space foresaid, lawfull tryall being tane therein, as said is, they shall be decerned to have committed purpursion. And siklike, OUR said SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estaites foresaids, statutes and ordeines, that wha-soever in tyme coming, shall till, labour, manure, saw, parke, inclose, or appropriat any part or portion of his Majesties common Moores, or others his Heighnes commonities. (The famine being sufficientlie tryed in maner foresaid) shall be also decerned to have committed purpursion, and punished therefore conforme to the Lawes, use and consuetude of this Realme, observed of auld in matters of purpursion.

6. Anent Bearers and Schutters with Hagbuts and Pistolets.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, understanding that calling and persewing of bearers, wearers & Schutters with Hagbuts and Pistolets and others ingynes of fire-wark before his Justice and his deputies, breeds sik trouble to parties and assifours, and sik difficultie in the tryell, that often tymes innocent persons, are thereby vexed, and sik as are gilty eschewes their due punishment, by declyning of the assifours, that best knowes the veritie of the fact, and other sik subterfuges and delays of lawfull tryell. For remeed whereof, his Heighnes with advise and consent of his Estaites of Parliament, Statutes and ordeines, that the Bearers and Wearers of Hagbuts and Pistolets, and others ingynes of fire-wark, who hath neither committed slaughter nor mutilation, nor other odious violence there-with, but onely borne and worne them upon their persons, or in their companies, contrair his Heighnes Lawes, and Acts of Parliament, may be either persewed criminallie before the Justice and his deputies, according to the Custome heretofore observed, or before his Heighnes, and the Lords of Secret Counsell, and lawfull probation of witnes, or eath of partie, at the option of his Heighnes Thesaurer or Advocat. Provying alwyse, that sik as shall be persewed before his Heighnes, and Lords of the Secret Counsell, and tryed by probation of witnesss, gilty of any of the saids crymes, shall not incur the corporall punishment prescryved by the former Acts, be amputation of the right hand, but onely to be punished by warding of their persons, escheir of their goods movable or payment of sik a pecuniall penaltie and summe of money, as his Heighnes and Lords of his Secret Council shall decerne; but prejudice any wyse of the execution of the former Acts of Parliament, against sik as shall be criminallie persewed, convict and found gilty by a condong assise before his Heighnes and Justice generall, or his deputies foresaids, in case his Majestie like rather that they be persewed criminallie before the Justice, nor before the Secret Counsell. And farther, his Heighnes and Estaites foresaids, annuls & discharges all licences given by his Majestie, for bearing and wearing of Hagbuts, Pistolets and others ingynes of fire-wark. And statutes and ordaines, that na licences shall be granted in tyme coming to no persons for bearing and wearing of the same, except that the same licences be granted by his Heighnes, and Lords of secret Counsell sitting in Councell: And when the same licences are so graunted, ordaines the same licences to pay composition to his Heighnes Thesaurer, and passe his Register, and to passe the Signet and haill seales; and decernes and declares all licences not graunted in Councell, and whilk shall not pay composition and passe the Signet and haill seales, as said is, to be null and of nane avail. And notwithstanding thereof, the said persons to be accused, conforme to this present act, and acts of Parliament made of before.

7. Explanation of the acts of Parliament anent Ocker and Usurie.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, With advyse and consent of the Estaites, ratifies and approves the acts of Parliament made against Usurie and taking of unlawfull annuell-rent or profite for silver in all poynts, according to the tenour of the same. And because the obscurity of the act of his Majesties fiftenth Parliament, titulat, It is not lesome to take mair annuell-rent or profite nor ten for the hundreth, anent the manner of tryell and probation of the said cryme by each of partie, and all other lawfull probation conjoynd there-with, competent of the Law, hes bred sic difficultie in peruse and decision of the saids causes, that Justice thereby hes bene greatlie frustrat, and the contraveiners of the said act altogether unpunished.

Therefore his Majestie with advyce and consent foresaid, statutes and ordaines that in all actions already intended, dependand, or hereafter to be intended against contraveiners of the saids acts, Litiscontestacion being made therein, by admitting of the summonds to probation, it shall be lesome to prove the saids summonds and contraveining of the saids acts, or any of them anent the taking of unlawfull and exhorbitant profite, for summes of money, by writte or each of partie, receiver of the said unlawfull profite, and be the witness insert in the said securitie, made for the saids summes, without receaving of the each of the partie, giver of the saids unlawfull profitess, for eschewing of all occasion of perjurie, whilk might be suspected to proceed there-upon.

8. Anent dissolution of the Coal-heughes of the proprietie, and lands where demolished strengths and Castels were builded of auld.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, understanding that the ground & boundes where diverse Castels, Strengths and Forths pertaining to his Majesties most noble Progenitours, were of auld situat, is now altogether most deforme and unprofitable to his Majestie, the saids Castels and Forths being so demolished, that there remains no kynde of building therein, either for strength or dwelling to his Majestie. As lykewise, that his Heighnes Coal-heughes within the boundes of his annexed proprietie, being unhabile to be wrought, without advancement of great expences, are so neglected that his Majestie neither receavis furniture of coales to his Heighnes house thereby, nor any other profite or commoditie of the same. For remede whereof, OUR said SOVERAIGNE LORD, with advyse and consent of his Estaites of Parliament, statutes and ordaines that it shall be lesome to his Heighnes, to sett all and fundrie the lands and boundes with the pertinents, where-upon any of the saids auld demolished and unhabitable Castels and Forths were situat; together with the Medowes and Loches belanging thereto, and Coal-heughes being within the boundes of his annexed proprietie, in few-ferme heritable. So that it be not in diminution of his Heighnes Rentall, Gressum or others duties, but in augmentation thereof. And to that effect, with consent foresaid, makes present dissolution thereof. And that the lands, Medowes, Loches, Coal-heughes, and others set by his Majestie, by vertue of this Act in maner foresaid, shall stand perpetuallie, and after his decease, the annexations made before to retorne againe to the awne nature. So that his Succellours, after his decease, shall have na farther power to annalie nor wodset in few any of the saids lands, boundes, Loches, Medowes, Coal-heughes, and others foresaid, nor they had before the making of this present dissolution. And his Heighnes and Estaites of Parliament, declares that the foresaid dissolution shall nowise hurt nor prejudice Alexander Lord Levingston his rights, whilk he hath to the Coall of Boniton beside Lirghow, and to his right that he hath to the Castell of Blacknes, with the greines and pertinents belanging thereto.

Act anent cunye and Bullion.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estaites of Parliament, having at length reasoned anent the state of the Cunye, as the same is presently current within this Realme declares, that in this present Parliament, they will on no wyse alter the fynnes nor pryces of the Cunye, either of gould or silver; but that the same have free passage and course hereafter as it presently gives. And because his Majestie and Estaites understands that there is great scarcitie of Cunye for the tyme within this Realme. Therefore, hes given power and commission to the Lords of his Heighnes secret Counsell, for ordour taking anent the hame-bringing of Bulyeon for furnishing of the Cunye-house, and discharging the transporting and away taking of gould, silver and other forbidden geare, under the paine of punishing of their bodies and goods, according to the discretion of the saids Commissioners. Whereby the Countrie may be furnished with abundance of Cunyic of sik fynnes and pryces as the famine presentlie gives, and hes passage within this Realme. And thesē presents to be published to all OUR SOVERAIGNE LORDS Lieges.

10. Act anent the salting and transporting of herring.

THE Kings Majestie with the advyce of the Estaites of this present Parliament, statutes and ordaines, that na person nor persons, alsivell strangers as native borne subjects of this Realme, take upon hand to buy, pack, peill, salt, barrell, or yet transport forth of this Realme, any herring in small or great quantitie at any tyme before Michael-mes yearlie, but to suffer the famine to be brought to publick marcets, and there fault to all his Heighnes Lieges, upon reasonabill pryces, without attempting any thing in the contraire thereof, under the paine of confiscation of the famine herring, barrells, shippes and vessels; and of all the rest of the movable goods of the persons, contraveiners hereof in any poynt, The third part of the famine to the apprehender, and the rest to his Majesties use, to be inrovetted with by his Heighnes Comptroller, and sik as he shall give power and commission to for that effect. And statutes and ordaines, that no licences be granted hereafter for packing, peilling, salting and transporting of herring before the tyme foresaid; except the famine licences be graunted with consent of the Counsell sitting in the Councell. And after the graunting of the saids licences, ordaines the famine to passe the Signet and haill seals, otherwyse declares the famine licences to be null and of nane avail.

11. Slaying of Salmond in forbidden tyme, to be ane cryme of thift in tyme comming.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estaites of Parliament, statutes and ordaines, that the slaying of Salmond in forbidden tyme, or of Kipper, Smolts, or sik black fishe at any tyme, shall be in all tyme comming, ane cryme of thift to the committer whatomever in all tyme comming; and shall be punished as thift in every qualitie, according to the committers rank and estate. Exceptand alwyse forth of this present act, the Salmond, Kipper, Smolts, and all other fishes slane or tane within the rivers of Ammand and Tweed allanerlie.

12. Anent singular Combats.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estaites of this present Parliament, considdering the great libertie that sundrie perones takes in provoking of others to singular combats, upon suddaine and frivole quarrels whilk hes ingennered great inconvenients within this Realme.

Therefore, statutes and ordaines, that no person in tyme comming, without his Heighnes licence fight any singular combat, under the paine of death, and his movable geare escheat to his Heighnes use. And the provoker to be punished with a more ignominious death nor the defender, at the pleasure of his Majestie.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estaites of this present Parliament, considdering the great expenses and falserie the Lieges of this Realme susteines, by seeking of a Notar and foure witnesses, to the registration of all letters of Horning, Relaxations, Inhibitions and Inredictions, in the Schireffes, Baillies or Stewarts bookes within this Realme. And als susteins great delay by seeking of the Clerks wha should registrat the famine.

Therefore OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estaites foresaids, discharges that part of the act of Parliament made in the Moneth of December 1597. yeares, anent the registration of the famine letters of Horning, Relaxation, Inhibition and Interdiction, before a Notar and witnesses. And decernes and declares the famine letters whilk are or shall be registrat in the saids Schireffes, Baillies or Stewarts bookes by the Clerk thereof. Or by the Clerk of Register and his deputes, in the bookes of Counsell, shall be valide and sufficient in the selfe, and shall make faith in judgment or out-with in all tyme comming.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estaites of Parliament, statutes and ordaines, that the sleuth and negligence of any of his Heighnes officiars, in the persewing or defending of any of his actions or causes in any tyme by-gane or to come; shall nowyse be prejudicial or hurtfull to his Heighnes, but that he and his officiars, successors in that office, may without any orduor of reduction, and by way of exception or reply, use and propone all and sundrie exceptions, replies and defenses competent of the Law, whilk were willinglie or negligentlie omitted by their predicesours. And thereby supplie whatomever thing that hes bene neglected or amitted by the saids predicesours. To the effect, that his Heighnes and his Crown be no wyse hurt, nor prejudged by negligent Officiars, and the benefite of his Lawes may be competent to him at all tymes when it shall please him and his officiars to crave and use the famine.

15. The paine of forbidden and uncustomed goodes.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, with consent of the Estaites of this present Parliament, statutes and ordaines that na person nor persons, take upon hand in tyme comming to transport forth of this Realme, or inbring within the famine any forbidden or uncustomed goodes under the payne of tynself of their movable goodes that shall happen to come in the contrare hereof. That is to say, the saids forbidden and uncustomed goods that shall happen to be taken and apprehended, to apperteine as escheat to OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and to be inrometted with, and up-taken by his Heighnes Comptroller, and compt thereof to be made by him in the Checker, and the remanent of the movable goodes and geare pertainning to the contraveiners of this present act, to be escheat for their contempt by OUR SOVERAIGNE LORDS Thesaurer. For the whilk he fall be lykewyse obliged to make compt in all tyme comming. And discharges all licences already granted to that effect, and that no licence passe hereafter, except the famine be past in Counsell, and passe the haill Seales, and pay composition to his Heighnes. And ordaines letters to be direct hereupon as effecters.

16. Ratification of the acts made of before in favours of the Kirk.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, With advyce of the Estaites of this present Parliament, ratifies, approves and confirms the libertie of the true and holy Kirk and Religion, presentlie professed within this Realme, and established by the Lawes of the famine; and all acts, constitutions and immunities made and graunted to the famine, als well in his Heighnes minoritie as since his perfitte age. And ordaines the famine to be put to execution in all poyntes, against all persons whatsoever in all tyme comming.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, with advyce of the Estaites of this present Parliament, Ratifies, approves and confirms the Act made in the convention of the Estaites at Haly-rude-boufe, the day of October, the yeare of God 1598. anent non Communicants, whereof the tennour followes. FOR-SAMEIKLE as by diverse and fundrie lovable Actes of Parliament, made by his Heighnes, and his unwhyle Mother of good memory, since the reformation of the Religion. It is statute and ordained, that all his Heighnes subjects should embrace the Religion presently professed, als well by hearing of the word, as participation of the Sacraments. Notwithstanding whereof, fundrie persons of the Realme absteyn from the receaving of the Communion and Lords Supper, pretending an excuse of rancour and malice that they have in their myndes, against some of their Neighbours, bearing them at deadly fead. Alledging so long as the famine rancour remains with them, and they nowyse reconciled with their saids Neighbours, that they can not worthelie receave the saids Sactaments, and can not justly be burdened by the Ministrie to doe the famine. Whilk pretended excuse is nothing but a coulour and clock to cover their Papistrie, whilk is the onely cause of their absteyning to communicat. And in so far as by the acts of general Assemblies, it is found that deadly fead can be no lawfull cause why any person should debar himselfe from the Seales and Sacraments of this Communion with Christ.

Therefore his Heighnes with advyce of the Estaites presentlie convened, hes statute and ordained, that all his Heighnes subjects shall communicat once every yeare; and shall no wyfe pretend any excuse of deadly feade, rancour or malice to appeare towards their neighbours. And when ever it shall happen any to absteyne or debar himselfe from the participation of the said Sacrament, upon the pretence of the said excuse, or any other cause whatsoever, they being first lawfully requyred by their Pastor or Presbyterie to doe the famine; that then they shall be astricted to pay the particular penalties under written, enjoyned to them, and that to his Heighnes Thesaurer. That is to say, every Earle so oft as he shall contravene the premises, a thousand pounds. Every Lord, a thousand markes. Every Barron, five hundred pounds. Every Freeholder, three hundred markes. Every Yeoman, fourtie pounds. And every Burges according to the modification of the Kings Majestie and Lords of secret Counsell. Whilkes paines, the saids Estaites hes ordained OUR SOVERAIGNE LORDS Thesaurer, to execute with all extremite against the contraveiners hereof, and to intromet there-with to his Heighnes use.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, with advyce and consent of the Estaites of this present Parliament, Ratifies, approves and confirms the act made in the secret Counsell at Sanct Johnston, the first day of Apryle 1600. yeares. Anent the Jesuits, Seminarie Preists, excommunicat and traffiking Papists, common enemies to all Christian Governement, whereof the tennour followes. For-sameikle, as by diverse Actes and Proclamations made and published heretofore, all Jesuits, Seminarie Preists, excommunicat and traffiking Papists, common enemies to all Christian Governement, are specially commanded to depart and passe forth of this Realme, under certaine paines mentioned in the famine act. The not execution wheteof hes produced sik a contempt and mistegarde of the saids acts, that the resait and traffik of the saids Jesuites and and Seminarie Preists, is very frequent in sundry parts of this Realme, where-throw great numbers of ignorant and simple people are seduced by them, to declyne from the true and Christian Religion, to the offence and displeasure of God.

For remeed whereof, it is statute and ordained by his Majestic, and Lords of his Heighnes secret Council, that whatsover Jesuites, Seminarie Preists, excommunicat and trafficking Papists, presently being within this Realme; or that shall happen to be within the same, shall immediately after their delation to his Majestic, be taken and apprehended by ordinar Magistrats of the bounds where they resort, and committed to ward, ay and whill they be converted to the Religion, removed and put out of the Countrie, or else punished according to the tennour of the saids acts. So that alwyse the benefite of the act of Parliament, granting to other Papists the space of fourtie dayes to satisfie the Kirk, or to remove of the Countrie, shall be nowyse extended to them. And because the reset whilk they have founden in diverse parts of the Countrie, hes given them the boldnes so avowedlie to contemne his Majestic and his Lawes. That therefore sik persons as shall be given up by the Presbyteries, or Session of the Kirk, to be the refecters and hurders of them, shall be charged under sik pecunial paines, as shall be modified by his Majestic, and Lords of secret Council, not to reset them hereafter with this addition; that his Majestic and Estaites of Parliament declares that every Earle that shall happen to reset any, shall pay a thousand pounds. Every Lord, a thousand marks. Every Barron, five hundreth pounds. Every Free-holder, three hundreth marks. Every Yeoman, fourtie pounds. And every Burges according to the modification of the Kings Majestic and Lords of secret Council, the paine alwyse not exceedand the summe of an hundreth pounds. Whilks paines the saids Estaites hes ordained OUR SOVERAIGNE LORDS Thefaurer to exact with all extremitie against the contraveiners hereof, and to intromet there-with to his Heighnes use.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, with advyce of the Estaites of this present Parliament, ratifies and confirms the act made by his Heighnes and Estaites conveyed at Perth the first day of Appryle last by past, against strong and idle beggers; whereof the tennour followes. The Kings Majestic and Lords of secret Council, remembering how there hes bene diverse gude and lovable acts of Parliament and secret Council, made and published heretofore, for punishment of strong and idle beggers, and releef of the poore and impotent. And how the saids acts hes received litle or no effect, or execution by the oversight and negligence of the persons, who were nominat Justices and Commissioners, for putting of the saids acts to full and due execution. And that here was not a special penaltie, appoynted and enjoyned to them, who should be remisse and negligent therein. So that the strong and idle beggers being for the most part theeves, bairds and counterfite limmers, living most insolentlie and ungodly, without mariage or Baptisme of a great number of their children, are suffered to vaig and wander throughout the haill Countrie, and the poore and impotent persons are neglected, and no care had, nor provision made for their enterテインement and sustentation. For remeed whereof, and supplie of the saids acts, and namely of the act of Parliament made in the yeare of God 1597. Whereby the execution of the acts of Parliament, is committed to the particular Sessions of the Kirk. It is statute and ordained by the Kings Majestic, with advyce of the Lords of his secret Council, that the saids Sessions of the Kirk, where need is, shall be assisted by one or twa of the Presbyteries; and that they shall put the saids acts to full and due execution, conforme to the tennour thereof in all poynts, every an of them within their awne bounds, under the paine of twentie pounds to be exacted of them, so oft as they shall be found to be remisse or negligent herein. And that thes presents shall beginne to take effect, and have execution upon the first day of June next to come. And to the effect his Majestic may be the better assured of the care and diligence of the saids Sessions of the Kirk, in due execution of the saids acts of Parliament, his Majestic commands the haill Presbyteries of this Realme, to take diligent tryd of the obedience of the Sessions hereanent, and to report their certificat and testimonial there-upon, to his Majesties Ministers, betwixt and the first day of August next to come. Where-throw his Majestic may thereafter proceed against sik as shall be negligent as accords: And that letters of publication be direct here-upon as effairs; where-throw the said Sessions of the Kirk, nor no other pretend ignorance. And to command and charge the saids Sessions of the Kirk to put the saids acts of Parliament made against strong and idle beggers, whereof the execution is committed to them, by the said act of Parliament made in the foresaid yeare of God 1597. to due and full execution in all poynts, conforme to the tennour thereof, betwixt and the said first day of June next to come, under the said paine of twentie pounds to be exacted of them, so oft as they shall be founden to be remisse after the said day. Certifying them that sayes, that the said paine shall be uplifted of them with all rigour. And sik-like to command and charge the saids Presbyteries to take tryell of the saids Sessions here-anent, and to report their testimonial there-upon betwixt and the first day of August, as said is. As they will answere to his Majestic upon their obedience at their uttermost charge and perrell.

20. Anent the Mariage of adulterous persons.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, with advyce of the Estaites of this present Parliament, decernes all mariages to be contractd here-after by any persons divorced for their awne cryme and fact of adulterie, adulterie, from their lawfull spouses, with the persons with whom they are declared by sentence of the ordinar Judge to have committed the said cryme and fact of adulterie, to be in all tyme comming null, and unlawfull in themselves, and the succession to be gotten be sik unlawfull conjunctions, to be unhabile to succeed as heires to their saids parents.

21. Registers of the Schireffe Clerks to be marked by the Clerk of Register and his deputies, and their extraittes to be marked by themselves.

THAT all and whatsoever Schireffes Clerks in all tymes hereafter, shall present their Registers to the Clerke of Register to be marked by him and his deputies. And whatsoever registration to be subscribed hereafter by them, upon whatsoever letters together with whatsoever extraitts shall be given forth thereof to any person, shall containe in all tyme comming, the lease wherein the same is registrat, and this or dour to beginne from the first day of March next; within the whilk, they and every one of them shall present their saids registers to be so marked. And that nane of them subscribe their registration upon any letter, or give forth any extraitt subscribed with their hand after the foresaid day, unspecified the lease wherein the same is contained, within their Booke, marked as said is, under the paine of an hundredth markes, roties, quoties. But prejudice alwyse of the hornings whilks the saids Clerks omission, or neglect in this behalfe, shall nowyse make invalide.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and haill Estaites of Parliament presentlie convened, for removing of the present feads that abounds within this Realme. Finds it meet and expedient that the parties be charged to compeir before his Heighnes and secret Counsell, at sik dayes as shall be thought expedient, to submit to two or three friends on either side; or to subscribe ane submission, formed and sent by his Majestie to them to be subscribed. Whilks friends by their acceptation shall be bound either to decerne within the space of threttie dayes, after they have accepted, or else to agree at their first meeting, on ane Overf-man who shall decerne within that space: whilk if they can not doe, they shall within the foresaid threttie dayes, report the ground and cause of their disagreement to his Majestie, and sik specials of his Counsell as his Heighnes shall finde least partial and suspect. (Whaes Majestie by the advyce of the Estaites here present, is declared to be Overf-man in that matter.) And failing, that the friends arbitrators, either decerne or report not within the foresaid space after their acceptation, every ane of them by the authoritie of this present acte, to incur the paine of ane thousand pounds, to be employed to his Majesties use. And because all feads are ane of thir three natures, namely that there is either na slaughter upon neither side, or slaughter upon ane side only; or else slaughter upon both sides. The parties in the first may be commanded to agree, due satisfaction being offered, and performed at the sight of friends, and overf-man in maner foresaid. Where there is slaughter upon both sides, his Majestie may by rigour and equalitie of Justice, compell them to agree, due satisfaction to be made on either side, according to the qualitie of the offence, and persons offended. Where the slaughter is onely on the ane side, the partie grieved can not refuse in reason to submit in maner foresaid, all quarrell he can beare to any person innocent, Justice being made patent to him against the gilty; speciallie he being ordained by this present acte to persew nane other but the gilty, and that by the Law. And the partie so persewed not to beare quarrell for it, but to defend in lawfull maner. And that all quarrels shall cease against sik as shall be lawfully persewed in this forme, either by their conviction, and execution by Law, or otherwyse by their clenging and agreement; that all persons being of perfite age, and within the Countrie, and having entres to persew any partie for crimes capitall, shall within fourtie dayes after the publication of this present acte at the head burgh of the Shyre where the persewer dwelles; raise, and cause execute their letters in the said matter. And insist in the persute thereof, with certification to sik as failyes, that their action shall perish, expyre and be extinct; and the said persewer shall be compelled to submit his action, in maner above specified. Reserving alwyse to his Majestie his action, as accords of the Law. Providing, that if the said persewer satisfie the ordinance of this present acte, and be delayed either by ane continuation of the dyet by warrant of the Prince, or by the dilatour defenses proponed by the pannell, for eliding of the finall tryell of the persute. In that case the prescription nowyse to runne against the persewer, having done his possible diligence in maner foresaid. And because the giltynes of crimes consistes not onely in the person of the actual committers thereof, but also in the authors, causers and movers of the same to be committed, wha are airt, part and gilty of the said fact, whereof na publict knowledge nor certaine tryell is had, His Majestie and Estaites nowyse willing that neither the authors nor actour of sik hynous crimes eschape the due punishment, through obscuritie and laik of publict knowledge thereof. Declares that the parties offended, doing their diligence, as said is, against the actual and knowne committers of the saids crimes, and satisfying this acte anent their reconciliation with all others persons, shall nowyse be prejudged of their action, competent against sik persons of whaes guiltines they shall hereafter get knowledge; providing, that they shall beare no fead against the saids suspect persons, whill first after sufficient information obtained, they raise their letters for summonding the saids parties to underly the law, and either make them fugitive, or otherwyse obtene the persute decided. And farther, that the prescription of this present act shall nowyse militat against any partie, whaes actions are already submitted to ane langer day nor is preseryved in this act. Provyding, that the partie doe his diligence in maner above written, within fourtie dayes after the expyryng of the said submissioun. And to the intent that Justice be an occasion to breed farther trouble, every partie shall come to the town accompanied allanerlie with twentie foure persons, where both they and their companie shall keepe their ludging to the houre of cause. At the whilk, first the ane and then the other shall be brought out by the town in Armes accompanied from their ludging to the Bar with the number preseryved to their rank by act of Parliament. The contravincner whereof, if he be persewer, shall tyne his persute in tyme comming; and if he be defender, he shall be denounced rebell as presumed guiltie, and refusing laifull tryell. And for staying of all deadly feads in tyme comming where there is no cause nor quarrell given as yet, it shall not be lawfull to the persewer to invade, persew, beare fead or quarrell against any friend of the offender, innocent and not accused and convict of the cryme, under the paine of tynfell of his action and persute against the guiltie, & to be compelled to submit with the offenders selfe. Refersing alwyse to his Majestie his action against him for the cryme. Lyke as the friends of the guiltie person being convict and fugitive from the Law, shall not beare quarrell for his persute be Law, neither maintein, supplie nor reset him, under the paines conteneid in the act against resetters of fugitives and rebels. And in case any of the friends of the guiltie persons reset him in contempt of this present act, and others his Heighnes Lawes, the partie grieved assisted with his Heighnes Advocat, shall onely persue the resetter by ordour of Law without convocation or fead, grudge or quarrell to be borne against him therefore othervyse; under the paine of tynfell of his said lawfull action in all tyme comming. And to this ordour before specified, the haill Nobilitie and Estaites here present, have given their approbation and consent, and sworne to conforme them thereto in all feads whilk shall fall out in tyme comming. And this present act nowyse to nullitat in sik case where the partie offender is denounced rebell, or shall happen hereafter to be fugitive and put to the horne, for slaughter or other odious capital crimes, during the tyme of their rebellion. And to the intent these present articles may have the better effect, and be the mair willingly embraced by his Majesties haill subjects, his Heighnes of his proper motive and gracious inclination to Justice, quietnes and well of his people, solemnly declared and faithfully promitted in presence of the saids Estaites, that for slaughter and other odious crimes to be hereafter committed, his Heighnes shall graunt no respit, remission, pardon nor oversight at any tymes hereafter, Albeit the parties transact and agree amongst themselves, till the inveterat and damnable customes of the saids heynous crimes be rooted out and altogether suppressed. Whilkis articles above written, in the haill heads and poynts of the famine, OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD and Estaites foresaid, presently conveyed, ratifies, approves and confirms, and ordaines the famine to have the strength, force and effect of ane law in all tyme comming. And that letters of publication and executiorials passe hereupon, for the better observacion hereof in this present Parliament.

23. Act against slaughter of Wyld-fowles.

FOR SAMEIKLE as by common consuetude of all Countries, special prohibition is made to all sorts of persons to slay wyld-foull, Hair or Vennison, except sik as by their revenewes may beare the charges and burdings of the Halkes, Hounds and Dogs, requisit in sik pastymes. In respect the famine as well hes bene created for the recreation of mankind, as for their sustentation. Lyke as it is of treuth that by diverse and sundry acts of Parliament others statutes and proclamations made heretofore, all slaying of the said wyld-foull and beastes by any indirect meanes, sik as hagbut, girn, net and fowler dogg is speciallie forbidden, and diverse penalties conteneid in the famine act. Yet never heles, sik hes bene the slacknes of the execution of the famine, that diverse and sundrie persons having greater regarde of their gaine and commoditie, whilk they purchases by the selling of the said wyld-foull, to sik persons wha prefers their awne inordinar appetite and gluttonie, either to the obedience of the saids Lawes, or to the recreation that may be had by the direct slaying of the famine. Hes used all the saids indirect meanes in slaying of the saids wyld-fowles and beastes, whereby this Countrie being so plentifullie furnished of before, is become altogether scarce of sik waikes. For remeed whereof, and that the continuing of the said abuse may not procure worse inconvenients, seing in tyme of peace in all tyme bygane, the saids pastymes of hunting and halking were the onely means and instruments to keepe the haill Leiges bodies fra not becoming altogether effeminat. OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD and Estaites of Parliament, finding that the discharging of the selling of the saids wyld-fowll and Vennison shall procure ane remeed of the abuse foresaid. Have therefore discharged, lyke as by these presents they discharge any persons whatsoever, within this Realme in any wyse to sell or buy any fastan reid or fallowe Deare, Daes, Raes, Hares, Partridges, Moote-fowles, Black-cokes, Aith-hennes, Termigants, wyld-Dukes, Teilles, Atteilles, Goldings, Mortyms, Schidderems, Skaidraik, Herron, Butter, or any sik kynde of fowles, commonly used to be chased with Halkes, under the paine of ane hundred pounds to be incurred alsweil by the buyer as the seller. And in case of the inhabilitie of any of the saids persons to pay the said summe, that the apprehender of them shall cause them be scourged thorow the Burgh or Town where they shall be apprehended. And als discharges any of the saids Leiges, in any wyse to slay any of the wyld-fowll or beastes above specified, by girn, net or hagbut, under the paine above specified to be incurred by them. For execution whereof, OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD hes given and graunted power and commission to all Schireffes, Stewarts, Bailies, alsweil of Regalities as

Royalities,

Royalties, Provests and Baillies of Burrowes, and every Barron within his awne Barronnie, special Justices to that effect; giving them full, free and plene power to up-lift or execute the paines above specified against the transgressors of these presents; the one halfe of the saids pecunial paines to be intromitted with by them, to apperteyne to OUR SOVERAINE LORD, and to be payed to his Heighnes Thesaurer; and the other halfe to the delator and apprehender. And because one of the greatest occasions of the scarcitie of the saids Partridges and Moore-fowles, is by reason of the great slaughter of their Pouts and yonganes: when as for youth neither are they habile to give pastyme, and for quantitie can no wyse be ane great refreshment.

Therefore OUR SOVERAINE LORD hes discharged all his Heighnes subjects whatsomever, in any wyse to slay or eat any of the saids Moore-pouts, or of any other kyndes before the thrid day of Julie; or Partridge-pout, before the aught day of September. Alwyse OUR SOVERAINE LORD and Estaites foresaids, declares that this present act, shall nowyse comprehend Cunnings, Wod-cock, Pleyars nor wyld-Goose, but the samine to be slane with nets, and others-ingynes not forbidden by the Lawes of this Realme, and to be coft and sauld as lawfull Merchandice as of before.

24. Anent the custuming of goods.

FORSAMEIKLE as it is understand to the Kings Majestie and Estaites of this present Parliament, that be diverse Acts of Parliament, Lawes and constitutions heretofore observed, all maner of English goods broght within this Realme, are and have bene ever subject, and in use of payment to his Heighnes of ane certaine custome, and duetie properly pertaining to his Majestie, as ane-part of the Patrimonie of his Crown. Lyke as also other sorts of claith, silkes, stufes, and merchandice broght within this Realme from forraigne Nations, are by act of his Majesties Nobilitie, Councell and Estaites, of the date the thretein day of Majj, the yeaere of God 1597. Ratified and approved in Parliament holden at Edinburgh in the Moneth of December, the samine yeaere, subject to the payment of ane certaine custome to his Heighnes. And the Merchants inbringers of the saids goods, aught not to losse, breake bouk, or dispoine there-upon, whill the samine bee first entered, then marked, and dewlie customed by the Custumer appoynted thereto. Notwithstanding the custome of the saids goods are very far over-sene, to the great hurt and discommoditie of his Majestie, in respect there is na seall appoynted to be hanging, to the saids goods, according to the use and consuetude observed in other Nations, whereby the goods customed, could nowyse be knowne by the uncustomed goods. And sa by their confusion the Merchants, awners and inbringers of the saids goods, immediately after the arryving and comming of the saids goods within this Realme, looses, breaks bouk, selles and conceales the samine; and never offers nor presents na part thereof to be customed, conforme to the ordour, to the great prejudice of his Heighnes: whilk being now considered by his Heighnes, his said Nobilitie, Councell and Estaites, and they finding that by the want of the said seall, his Majestie is, and hes bene greatly defrauded of his customes. Ordaines therefore the haill Custumers within this Realme, to cause make ane print, seall, and stamp of seall containing twa halves for every Burgh and sea-port within this Realme, where there are established custumers; the one halfe thereof containing JACOBUS REX, with his Heighnes Armes and Crown; and the other halfe the name of the Burgh where the samine shall remaine. Whilk seall & stamp shall be applyed to lead, & being so stricken and printed with the said stamp, shall be hanging to every wob, peece and steik of claith, silk and stuff of whatsomever Nation that here-after shall be broght wthin this Realme by sea or land, before the samine be presented to open markers, sauld or any wyse disposed upon. And the one halfe of the said seall to be kepted by the Custumer, and the other halfe by the Clerk of the Cocquet. The awners of the said claith, silkes and stufes pay and the custume thereof. And to the effect the claith, silkes and stufes presentlie being within this Realme, may be knowne and decerned from that whilk hereafter shall be broght within the samine. It is also decerned and ordained, that the Custumer of every Burgh and sea-port, shall repaire to the dwelling houfes and buiths within every one of the saids Burghs and Ports where they are particularely appoynted Custumers, and there receive the eathes of the awners, of sik peeces, steiks and wobs of claith, silkes and stufes as are therein; whiche the samine hes payed the custume thereof or not. And sik as hes not payed custume, that the samine be then instantlie payed, and the said seall in token thereof hanging thereto, and to all others peeces, steikes and wobs whilks shall be apprehended within the saids buithes and houfes, whereof the custume hes bene payed of before, upon the expenses alwyse of the said Custumer. And that the awners of the said claith and stuffs, requyre the Custumers within every Burgh and Port particularely to repaire to the saids buiths and houfes, to this effect, within fourtene dayes after the publication hereof: And farther, to doe and performe all other things whilks to every one of them is appoynted to be done in maner foresaid, under the paine of confiscation of all the peeces, wobs and steiks of claith and stuff, that shall be apprehended thereafter wanting the said seall. And that na maner of persons, inbringers of the saids claith, silk and stuff within this Realme in tyme comming, presume nor take upon hand, to sell nor dispoine upon the samine, nor na part thereof, unto the tyme the samine be presented to the Custumers within the custume-houfes, the custume thereof payed, and the said seall in token thereof, hanging to every particular peece of the samine, as said is, under the paine of escheating of the samine. Certifying them if they failyre that all and whatsomever wobs, steiks and peeces whilks shall be apprehended wanting the said seall, shall be confiscar and intromitted with to his Majesties use as escheat, with all rigour and extremitie in example of others. And that letters of publication be direct here-upon, where-throw nane pretend ignorance of the samine.

25. All charges of Horning against persons dwelland be north the water of Die to be direct upon fiftene dayes at the least.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estaites of Parliament, considering how that his Majesties subjects, inhabiting the North-part of this Realme, are oftymes drawn in great inconvenients by findrie charges, direct against them, some-tyme for finding of Law-borrowes, or compeiring before his Majestie, and his Councell upon simple charges of sex dayes; sa that be the shortnes of tyme, and impossibilitie to them to satisfie the saids charges within sex dayes, in respect of the far distance of the place of their residence from the Burgh of Edinburgh, they are oftymes put under the danger of horning; whereas if they had convenient tymes graunted to them, there wald not be sik disobedience of sik great numbers of his Majesties subjects. For remeid whereof, it is statute and ordained, that na letters of horning shall be direct against any persons dwelling be North the water of Die upon ane shorter space nor fiftene dayes at any tyme hereafter. And the horning to be used against any of the saids persons upon ane shorter space nor fiftene dayes, shall be null and of nane avail.

THE Kings Majestie and Estaites of Parliament, considering the manyfald indignities from tyme to tyme done to his Majestie, by ane number of undewtiful and unreverent subjects, wha to the contempt and dishonour of his Majestie, make frequent tulyies, and seekes the commoditie to revenge their particular quarrells within the Burgh of Edinburgh and Cannogate, and others places neere to the place of his Heighnes residence; not spairing sometime at his Majesties awne back, to use their privat revenge, to the hazard and perelling of his Heighnes most Noble Person. Lyke as diverse persons, under pretence of their awne defence, repaires and resorts within his Majesties Palaces, armed with Jacks, Secreets or Corlets, under their doublets or coats. Where-throw it is to be feared, that certaine evill disposed persons, under cullour of their awne defence, may attempt some enterpryse against his Majestie or his domestiks.

For remeid whereof, and eschewing of the inconvenients that here-upon may ensue; It is statute and ordained, that whatsomever person of what estate, qualitie or degree he be of, shall presume to take upon hand at any tyme hereafter, to invade or persue any of his Majesties subjects, within any part of this Realme, within ane myle to the place of his Heighnes residence and remaining for the tyme; or wha shall resort and repaire within his Majesties Palaces, or any part of his residence, armed with Jacks, Secreets, or Corlets under their coats, doublets or otherwyse; that the saids persons, makers of the saids tulyies and combats, after due tryell that they were the first onsetsers. As also, the saids persons, repairing armed within his Majesties houses, as said is, shall be taken apprehended and warded for yeare and day, and far, her, ay and whill they fyn with his Majestie for their libetty, according to his Heighnes good pleasure.

27. Anent the Court place of the Schirefdome of the Meirnes.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estaites of this present Parliament, understanding the great ptejudice susteined by the Leiges of this Realme, where the judgiment-saits of Schireffes, and others Judges are not sa commodious, neither in building nor in situation, as the Schireff, others Judges and their deputies may convenientlie sit, nor the parties may resort thereto. And speciallic that the Schireff of the Meirnes, alias, Kincardin and his deputies, hes bene in use these many yeares to sit at Kincardin, where there is neither ane Tolbuith, nor any house to parties to ludge into, for their interteinement; nor yet is the place in the middes of the Schite, whereby the Leiges within the said Schirefdome are greatlie dammified. For remeid whereof, it is statute and ordained, that the Schireff of the Schirefdome of Kincardin and his deputies, in all tyme coming, shall sit and hold their Courts at the Stane-hyue, as maist meet and convenient to them, & to the haill Leiges within the Shyre: & that precepts to be direct, shall be to warne all parties within their jurisdiction, to compeir, to persue & defend in their Courts at the Stane-hyue in all tyme hereafter.

28. Anent the keeping of pledges.

FORSAMEIKLE asin tymebygane, the onely meane for quyeting of the Borders was entering of pledges, and the keeping of them in surety that in case any enormitie or wrang were committed by any of the gang or surname, for the whilk they were entered pledges; then Justice should be execute against the saids pledges with all rigour. And because heretofore, ane great number of the Nobilitie and Barronnes, being burdened for keeping in suretie some of the saids pledges, hath made their excuse of the danger and inconvenient that might occur to them, in case of the escape of any of the saids pledges, delyvered to them in keeping; whilk being easie to be prevented be the mair imprisonment of them. OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estaites of Parliament, findes that nane of the Nobilitie and Barons, being burdened to receive any of the said pledges shall refuse to accept them, upon excuse of any inconvenient whatsoever that may ensue; but shall receive them, and keepe and detene them, ay and whill the saids pledges be suited to be deliyvered by them; and shall be answerable for them, that they shall no wyfe escape, ilk pledge, under the paine of twa thousand pounds.

1. Commissioun anent the Union of the two Kingdomes.

ORSAMEIKLE As it hath pleased his most Excellent Majestie, acknowledging the un-speakable favour, where-with the divine Providence of the most Heigh hath blessed him by the oft-wished, but hardlie expected conjunction of two so auncient and lang discordant Kingdomes, maist earnestlie to desire an established continuance of the same; that as by lawfull succession they are one in the head, so in the body and every member thereof, they may be so inseparable conjoynded, as all-after-coming ages should finde the sweetnesse of the peace, wealth and felicitie, whilk by the perfite accomplishment thereof, may continue to the worlds end. And his most Excellent Majestie, although absent in person (from his most auncient and native Kingdom) yet present by his princelie power, Fatherlie care, and prudent commandements, daily directed to his most humble and obedient subjects of the Kingdome, having laid before them the great blessing that ane constant and friendlie conjunction with their neighbour Countrie of England, now united by alledgeance and loyall subjection in his Majesties most Royall Person, wald bring to them and their Posteritie, and there-with out of his maist loving and accustomed princely regarde, to their inestimable joy and comfort, voucha fang to assure them of his sincere disposition and cleare meaning, no way by the foresaid union, to preiudge or hurt the fundamentall Lawes, auncient priviledges, offices and liberties of this Kingdome. Whereby not onely the princely authoritie of his most Royall discent, hath bene these many ages maintained, but also his peoples securitie of their lands and livings, rights, liberties, offices and dignities preserved; whilks if they should be innovated, sik confusion should ensue, as it could no more be a free Monarchie; and his Majesties gracious intention in establishing the fore-said union, is onely to alter and reforme sik indifferent and temporall statutes, particular Customes, or speciall ordinaunces; whereby the bygane remembrance may be extinguished, and the future growth prevented of many particular debates and unhappie accidents, whilk might here-after disturbe that constant love and perfite amitie, betwix both Nations, so tenderlie wished by his maist Excellent Majestie; and sik steadfast and asald grounds of uniforme societie, surrogat in their place; That as the present age is Ravished in admiration with ane so fortunat beginning, sa that the posteritie may rejoyce in the fruition of sik ane effectuali union of two so famous and auncient Kingdomes, miraculously accomplished in the Blude and Person of so Rare ane Monarch.

rall of this present Parliament, assembled be vertue of his Majesties Commission, under the great seale of *Scot-

Of the

Most Excellent and Mightie King and Monarch, JAMES by the Grace of GOD, King of great Britane, France and Ireland, defender of the Faith, &c. Halden at Perth the ninth day of Julie 1606. yeares, by the Potent Earle and Lord JOHNE Earle of Montroile, Lord Grahame and Muggdock, his Majesties Commissioner, with advise of the Estates of this Realme.

1. Act anent the Kings Majesties Royall Prerogative.

ORSAMEIKE As the Estaites and haill bodie of this present Parliament, considering that with the lawfull descent in the Person of Our most gracious Sovereigne, of the righteous inheritance of the famous and renowned Kingdomes of England, France and Ireland, whilk very farre surpasses the wealth, power and force of the Dominions of any of his Progenitours, Kings of Scotland. GOD hath also joynd ane wonderfull increse of care and burding. For discharge whereof he hath endued his Majestie with sa many extraordinary graces, and maist rare and excellent vertues, as he is not onely knowne by daily and manifest experiences, in matters of greatest difficultie and consequence, to the unspeakable comfort of all his faithfull subjects, to be capable of the happie governement of his saids Kingdomes. But by his most singular Judgement, fore-sight and princely wisdom, worthie to possesse, and habile to governe farre greater Dominions and numbers of people. And in respect whereof, the saids Estaites plainly perceiving that by this his Majesties exaltation, not onely in preeminence and power, but also in all Royall qualities requisite for the happy discharge thereof, GOD hes manifestlie expressed his heavenlie will to be, that his Majesties Imperiall power, whilk GOD hes sa gratiousslie enlarged, shall not by them in any sort be impaired, prejudged or diminished; but rather revered and augmented sa farre as possible they can. Therefore the saids Estaites, and haill bodie of this present Parliament, all in ane voluntar, humble, faithfull and united heart, minde and consent, truelie acknowledges his Majesties Sovereigne Authoritie, Princelie Power, Royall Prerogative, and Priviledge of his Crown over all Estaites, persons and causes whatsoever within his said Kingdome. And his Majestie with expresse advyce, consent and assent of the saids haill Estaites, Ratifies, approves, and perpetuallie confirms the samin; als absolutlie, ampie and freelie in all respects and considerations, as ever his Majestie or any of his Royall Progenitours Kings of Scotland, in any tyme bygane possessed, used and exercised the samin. And lykewyse, with consent foresaid, casses, annuls, abrogats, retreats and rescinds all and whatsoever things attempted, enacted, done or hereafter to be done or intended to the violation, hurt, derogation, imparing or prejudice of his Heighnes Sovereigne Authoritie, Royall Prerogative and Priviledge of his Crown, or any point or part thereof, in any tyme bygane or to come. And the saids haill Estaites for them and their Successours, faithfullie promits, perpetuallie to acknowledge, obey, maintein, defend and advance the lyfe, honour, saistie, dignitie, Sovereigne Authoritie, and Prerogative Royall, of his sacred Majestie, his Heires and Successours, and Priviledge of his Heighnes Crown, with their lyves, lands and goods to the uttermost of their power, constantlie and faithfullie to withstand all and whatsoever, persons, powers or estaites, wha shall presume, prease or intend any wyse to impugne, prejudice, hurt or impare the samin; and never to come in the contrare thereof, directlie nor indirectlie in any tyme coming.

2. Act anent the Restitution of the estate of Bishops.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD now in his absence forth of his Kingdome of Scotland earnestlie desiring sa to provyde for the just and politike governement of that Estate, as his faithfull subjects there daylie mair and mair cairfull of sik things as may tend maist to the honour, profite and perpetuall stabilitie and quyetnes of the said Kingdome; wherein understanding Religion and Justice to be sa necessar foundaments and pillers, as by them the authoritie of the Princes and quyetnesse of the people in all tymes by-past, hes cheeflie bene established and mainteined, whill of late in his Majesties yong yeares, and unsetled Estaitie, hes bene greatlie impaired, and almost subverted, speciallie by the indirect abolishing of the Estaitie of Bishops, by the act of annexation of the Temporallie of benefices to the Crown, made in his Heighnes Parliamēt, ment, halden at Edinburgh in the Moneth of Julie, the year of God ane thousand, five hundred, fourescore seven years. Whereby albeit it was never meand by his Majestie, nor by his Estaites, thar the said Estait of Bishops consistin of Benefices of cure, and being ane necessare Estait of the Parliament, should on any wyse be suppressed; yet his Majestie by experience of the subsequent tyme, hath clearlie seene that the dismembring and abstracting from them of their livings, hes broght them in sik contempt and povertie, that they are not habile to furnishe necessaries to their privat families, meikle lesse to beare the charges of their wonted rank in Parliament and generall Counsaills, and alter the example of their Predicessours, to assit and supplie their Prince with their Counsell and goods, in tyme of peace and warre. The remeid whereof properlie pertains to his Majestie, whom the haill Estaites of their bounden duetie, with maist heartlie and faithfull affection humble and truelie acknowledge to be Sovereigne Monareh, absolute Prince, Judge and Governour over all persons, Estaites and causes both Spiritual! and Temporall within his said Realm.

THEREFORE his Majestie, with expresse advyce and consent of the saids haill Estaites of Parliament, being cairfull to repone, restore and re-integrat the said Estait of Bishops, to their aunceint and accustomed honour, dignities, prerogatives, priviledges, livings, lands, teyndes, rents, thriddes and estaites, as the samne was in the Reformed Kirk, maist ample and fre at any tyme before the act of annexation foresaid. By the tenor hereof, retreates, rescinds, reduces, casses, abrogats and annulles the foresaid act of annexation of the temporalitie of benefices to the Crown, made in the year of God ane thousand five hundred fourscore seven yeares, as said is, in as far as the samne may in any wyse comprehend or be extended to the authority, dignity, prerogative, priviledges, rowrs, castles, fortalices, lands, Kirks, teyndes, thriddes or rents of the saids Bishopricks, or any part thereof, with all others acts of Parliament, made in prejudice of the saids Bishops, in the premisses or any of them, with all that hes followed or may follow there-upon, and all acts of dismembring of particular Kirks, or commoun Kirks of the saids Bishopricks, from the samne, or for separating the thriddes of the saids Bishopricks from the bodie, tytle and twa part of the samne. To the effect, the persons presentlie provided to the Bishopricks of Scotland, or any of them, or that hereafter shall be provided to the samne, may freely, quyetlie and peaceablie enjoy, bruike and possesse the honours, dignities, priviledges and prerogatives, competent to them or their Estait since the Reformation of Religion; and all Towres, Fortalices, Lands, Kirks, Teyndes, Rents, Twpарт, Thriddes, Patronages and rights whatsoever, belanging to the Bishopricks or any of them, to use and exercise the samne, and frelie dispone upon the haill twa-part and thrid, Temporalitie and Spiritualitie of their saids Bishopricks, and all the premisses belanging to the saids Bishopricks, as the saids Acts of annexation and remaneir Acts, made in any wyse to their prejudice in the premisses, and everie one of them, and all that followed there-upon, had never bene made nor done. They alwyse entreteining the Ministers, serving at the cure of the Kirks of their saids Bishopricks, upon the readiest of their saids thriddes, according to the ordinar assignations made or reasonable to be made thereanent.

ATTOUR, Because his Majesties intention is onely to restore the Bishopricks, whilk are benefices of cure, and nowyse to alter any thing done in other benefices, whilk are not of cure. And for the better satisfaction of his Majesties subjects and faithfull servants, whom his Majestie in his princelie liberalitie, for diverse good respects and causes mooving him, hath benefited, rewarded and advanced with erections, fewes, Patronages, Teyndes, and others infestments, confirmations of lands, rents, Teyndes, Patronages and others rights of Abbacies, Pryories and others Benefices, not being Bishopricks.

They are to say, that it shall no wyse be leasome to any person provided or to be provided to ane Bishoptik within this Realme; to dispone or give in pension any part of the patrimonie of the said Bishoptik, whilk shall indure and last langer space nor the giver of the said pension shall bruik the said Bishoptik. And if it shall happen the saids persons provided to the saids Bishoptiks now, or in any tyme to come, to dismember any part of their saids benefices or patrimonie thereof. OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estaites of Parliament, decernes and declares all sik facts and deeds to fall under the compasse, perrell and danger of dilapidation of benefices, and to be ane expresse spece and kynde of dilapidation. And be reason it hes ever bene found necessar in all tymes past, that the sewing of lands, setting of tackes, and doing of sik other lawful deids, be whatsoverer Bishope and Prelat within this Realme, of any part of the patrimonie of their saids benefices, should have the consent of the maist part of their Chapter, without whais consent, had and obtained to the saids deeds, in haill, or the maist part thereof, was no wyse leasome to the saids Prelats to doe any of the saids deeds. And therefore, the saids Estaites hes declared and declares that the said chapter of Sant-Androes, hereafter shall consist of the number of the persons following, Viz. of seven persons of the Ministrie, dwelling and having their charge within his Diocie of Sant-Androes, to be elected and nominat by the said Archbishop himselfe, to be the perpetual convent, and chapter of the said Archbishoprik in all tyme comming; and after the decease or removing of any one or maa of them, from their present places and function within the said Diocie, the Intraunt succeeding in that place and charge, to succeed also in the samine roume of the chapter and convent. In doing whereof the saids Estaies will make na restraint or limitation of any tyme to the saids Bishops. And be reason that the due tie of the saids tacks to be set be the persons provyded to the saids Bishopricks, are to be applied, and converted for satisfaction, and entreteining the Ministers serving the cure of the Kirks of the saids Bishopricks, and for supplie of ane part of their stipends to be given to them. Of the whilk summe, the said Collector shall be halden to make compt and reckning to the auditours of his Heighnes Checker. Lyke as it is provyded, that it shall nowyse belesome to the saids Archbishops or Bishops, to hurt or diminishe any point or part of the said rentall, to be given in be them, as said is, whilk will consist cheeflie of the quantie of victuall and silver, whilk fall be provided to the saids Ministers for their steipends for serving the cures of the Kirks of the saids Bishopricks. as said is, but the said rentall shall remaine in the awnc integritie in all tyme comming. To the effect that the saids Ministers and their Successours serving the Kirks of the saids Bishopricks, as said is, may be assured of certaine local steipends, for their said service; not to be subject to the many changes and alterations, whereby frequentlie they have bene troubled in tymes preceeding. And last of all, becaus that the rentall to be given in of the saids Bishopricks, will consist and be made up, partlie of the duties of the saids tacks to be set, as said is, and that the certaintie of the saids local steipends stands in the up-giving of the saids rentals, whilk OUR SAID SOVERAIGNE LORD and Estaies, ordeins to be done with all goodlie diligence within the tyme prescryved thereto; that the Ministers serving the Kirks be not frustrat or disapoynted of due satisfaction and recompence for their travels tane in the service foresaid: And that they may be put in certaintie thereof in tyme to come, wherein the evident well and profite of the Kirk does appeare, and manifest the selfe. And for that cause order is given and forme prescryved for setting of tacks, as the preceeding Articles of this act porports. Where throw whatsover acts and constitutions made by any, either Civill or Ecclesiastik Judge, tending to the prohibition and restraint of setting of lawfull tacks by any beneficed person, aught to be annulled; feing the saids acts and constitutions, whilk wer made upon any preconceived feare of any laik or want of maintenance for entreteining of the Kirk, Or upon any other ground, are now clearly satisfied, by the cairfull regarde whilk his Majestie, and Estaies of this Parliament hes alwayes had, to the advancement of the Kirk, and to the certain provision of the Ministrie thereof, with constant steipends. Ane worke very necessaire, and to be forthered and expd by the present Bishops, and to whais cares and travels, OUR said SOVERAIGNE LORD and Estaies, hes recommended and commits to give over in the certaine provision of the Ministrie, serving at the Kirks of their Bishopricks, with competent and reasonable stipends, answerable and agreeable for their travels and sustentation. And there-upon the said Lord Advocat asked instruments.

Of the

Most Excellent and Mightie King and Monarch, JAMES By the grace of GOD, King of Great Britane, France and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, &c. Halden at Edinburgh, the twentieth fourth day of June, 1609. By ane Potent Lord, GEORGE Earle Marfchell, Lord Keith and Altrie, &c. Be vertue of his Majesties Commission graunted to him, under the great Seale of this Realme, with advyce of the Estaites of this Kingdome.

1. Act anent Chusing of Pedagogues to Children passing forth of Scotland to Schooles.

ORSAMEIKLE AS OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD and Estaites of this present Parliament, Considering that ane of the great causes whilk hes procured the growth and increafe of Papists within this Kingdome, hes proceeded from the small care and regarde that hes bene had of the education and upbringing of the youth, wha being sent forth of the Realme to places of contrarie profession, and not being first well grounded in Religion, and accompanied with Pedagogues scarce well affected to Religion, they doe oft returne back so possest with superstition and hereticall errors, as they may be justlie suspected for dangerous subjects in the Estaite. For preventing of whilk growth and increafe of defection from the true faith by the occasion foresaid, OUR SAID SOVERAIGNE LORD and Estaites foresaid, Ordeines that all sik Noble-men and others wha hereafter shall direct any Pedagogues with their Sones out of the Countrie, shall be halden by vertue of this present Act, to have ane sufficient Testimoniall of the Bishop of the Diocie where the said Pedagogue for the maist part latelie before made his residence: Testifying and approving the said Pedagogue to be godlie and of good Religion, learned and instructed in the same. And if any Noble-man or other shall happen to send any Pedagogue with their Sones out of the Countrie without the Testimoniall and approbation of the Bishop in manner above-written. In that case OUR SAID SOVERAIGNE LORD and Estaites foresaid, declares, statutes and ordaines that every sik Noble-man and others according to their severall degrees and rankes shall incur the paines particularlie under-written. Viz. Every Earle, five thousand pounds. Every Lord, five thousand markes. Every Barron, three thousand markes; whilks summes shall be intromitted with and uplifted of them by his Majesties Thesaurer and his Depute to his Heighnes use. Provying in-case it shall happen the Bishop of that Diocie to refuse to grant Testimoniall to the Pedagogue upon the premises, the said Bishop thereafter being Lawfullie summoned to compare before the Lords of his Heighnes Secrer Councell to answer to that complaint, and shaw not a reasonable cause of that his refusall. Then in that case, it shall be lawfull to the Lords of Secreteer Councell to give their Testimoniall to the foresaid Pedagogue to the effect above-written.

2. Act against Children that becomes Papists when they are out of Scotland.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estaites of this present Parliament, Ordeines the Noble-men, Barrons and others to have a speciall care, and to give ordour and direction that the remaining of their Sones forth of the Countrie; shall be in places where Religion is professed, or at the least where there is na restraint of the same by the crueltie of Inquisition: and that during the tyme of their absence they shall not haunt any Idolatrous exercise of Religion. And that sik persons as hes not the moyen to intertaine with their Sones ane Pedagogue, shall send them to sik places where Religion is professed. And in-case their Sones after their departure out of the Countrie shall haunt the exercises of contrarie Religion, OUR SAID SOVERAIGNE LORD and Estaites foresaid, ordeins that their parents, or sik others as hes the charge of them shall be straited to finde caution, acted in the buikes of Secreteer Councell, under sik paines as shall be modified, that they shall not supplie, intertaine nor furnishe them with any thing necessary or comfortable unto them after that it be known that their Sones are become Papists and haunts Idolatrie, contrarie to the Religion presentlie professed within Scotland, except their resonable expenses in recalling and bringing them to this Realme of Scotland.

3. Act anent excommunicat Persons not to enjoy their lands, rowmes and possessions.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estaits of this present Parliament, considering that where-as there is divers persons wha are Excommunicat for not conforming themselves to the true Religion presentlie professed, and doe notwithstanding still enjoy the possessions of their lands, rents and livings, either directlie in their awne persons, or covertlie in the persons of their friends and wel-willers to their use and behove, to the incouraging of them to persist in their pernicious and erroneous opinions, and to the frustrating of the execution of the acts and constitutions made against excommunicars heretofore. Therefore OUR said SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estaits foresaids, declares, statutes and ordeins, that na persons whatsoever, wha are alreadie or hereafter shall happen to be Excommunicat for not conforming themselves to the Religion presentlie professed within this Kingdome, shall be suffered either directlie in their awne persons, or covertlie and indirectlie by any others in their names and to their behove, to enjoy the possession of their lands, rents and revenues; but that the same shall be medled with, intrometted with and uplifted to his Majesties use.

4. Act giving command to Bishops to send the names of excommunicat persons to the Thesaurer and to the Director of the Chancellarie.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estaits of this present Parliament, considdering that to the effect every mans affection and disposition in his Religion may be clearlie and sufficientlie knawne. Therefore OUR said SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estaits foresaids, statutes and ordeins that every Archbishop and Bishop within the bounds of his awne Diocie shall anes everie yeare give up to the Thesaurer, Comptroller, Collector and their deputies, and to the Director of OUR SOVERAIGNE LORDS Chancellarie, aue Roll subscribed with his hand containing the names of all sik persons within his Diocie wha are excommunicat for Religion. And ordeins the said Thesaurer and his deputies, that they receive na resignations, nor grant confirmations nor intestments to nor in favours of any of the persons whais names shall be contained in the said Roll. And that the Director of the Chancellarie & his deputies give out na Brieves, receive na Retours, nor direct na precept upon retours, nor upon comprisings in favours of any of the saids persons whais names shall be insert in the said Roll at na tyme thereafter, whill the said person or persons produce unto the said Thesaurer, Comptroller, Director of the Chancellarie and their deputies a sufficient Testimoniall subscribed by the said Archbishop or Bishop, testifying their relaxaion from the said excommunication & their obedience and satisfaction to the Kirk, as the said Thesaurer, Director of the Chancellarie and their deputies will be answerable to his Majestie upon the duetie of their office. And lykwyse OUR SAID SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estaits foresaids, declares that it shall be lawfull to all Lords of Regalities, and to all Superiours wharsoever within this Kingdome, to refuse Breives and precepts of Clare constat in favours of any person or persons, whais names shall be insert in the said Roll. As also to refuse the entrie of Tenents upon comprysing, whais names are insert in the said Roll.

5. Act against Jesuites, Seminarie Preists, sayers or bearers of Messe, Papists, and refetters of them.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estaits of this present Parliament, considering the impunitie of Jesuites, Seminarie Preists and others Papists, adversaries to the true Religion proessed in this Realme, and their refetters in tymes bygane, hes bene the cause as well of their increase as of their insolence in all the parts of this Realme. And that the same hes proceeded partlie upon the negligent execution of the Actes of Parliament made against the saids Papists, Jesuites, and Seminarie Preists and their refetters, and partlie upon some obscuritie of words in the saids Acts. Therefore, OUR said SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estaits foresaids maist willing to have the saids Acts put to due execution in all poynts, and Papistrie and superstition utterlie suppressed according to the intention of the same, hes ratified, approved and confirmed, and by the tennour of this present Act Ratifies, approves and confirms all and wharsoomever Acts of Parliament, either made in his Heighnes minoritie and lesse age, or else since his acceptation of the government in his awne person, against Jesuites, Seminarie Preists, Papists, sayers and hearers of Messe, and refetters of the saids persons or any of them; And decernes and ordeins the samine to have full strength, force and effect, and to be put to due execution in all tyme comming, with these explanations after following. As likewise that all acts made of before against the refetters of the saids persons have their full force, strength and effect, and be put to due execution against the saids refetters; after lawfull intimation and denunciation be made of the saids persons. And for the better execution of the saids acts, OUR said SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estates foresaid, commands and ordeins all Archbishops; Bishops & Presbyteries to call before them the saids Papists, Jesuites, Seminarie Priests and their resetters, every one within their awn bounds; and to take tryell and cognition if they have contraveined the saids acts or any part thereof. And according as they finde after due tryell and probation, that they report the same to his Heighnes Advocat and Secrer Councell; to the effect they may be called and conveyed before them, and punished according to the saids acts in all poynts.

The Quotes thereof to be payed to the Archbishops, Bishops, their Chamberlanes, Factors and under-receavers appointed by them. And for maintaining all things in better order, and the restraining of unlawfull Divorcements, over frequentlie practised within this Realme, to the heigh dishonour of God and slander of true Religion. And that because they are his Majesties great Consistorie, to whom his Heighnes with advyce of the saids Estates, gives and grants a heigh supreme Commission for all sik causes, to Judge and determine of them in sik causes. And declares that it shall be lawfull to the saids Lords of Councell and Session, to Advocat causes to themselves from any of the Commissaires, upon just and lawfull complaints made to them by any of the subjects, and not otherwyse. 7. Act anent the Commissioners and Justices of Peace.

FORSAMEIKLE As among the infinite monuments and testimonies of his Majesties true pietie, singulare wisdom, sincere zeale to Justice and fatherlie care of his people, the Estaits of this Kingdome have not found any bringing mair deserved commendation and permanent renoune to his Majestie, or greater profite, quyetnesse and comfort to his subjects, nor his constant perseverance in his maist Religious and prudent resolution to extirpat the ungodlie, Barbarous and brutall custome of deadlie feads, whilk by the inveterate abuse of many bypast ages was become sa frequent in this Realme, as the subjects of greatest ranke and qualitie upon every naughtie occasion of base and unworthie contraverfies of neighbourhed, for turves, fold-dykes, fures or marches of lands, foolish words or drunken discords betwene their meanest servants and dependers, and any other in the Countrie, did so readilie embrace the protection of their unjust and unnecessary quarrels, as did many tymes involve themselves and their haill friendship in maist bloodie and mortall troubles, whilk they did prosecute with sik malice and cruelte, as to the extreme perrell of their faules, infamie of their memoriall, and overthrow of their awne and their adversaries houses, did distract the Kingdome in opposite factions, and many tymes furnished matter of maist pernicious, seditious and Civill warres. The inconveniences whereof being manifestlie sene and sensible felt, baith by the Princes & people of this Realme in many bypast ages and earnestlie focht to have bene removed, yet the corruption was sa universall, that the greatest part prevailling against the best, that cruell Barbaritie hath both continuance and daily increase, untill his Majestie bending the excellent wisdom and rare graces of his Royall minde (where-with God hes endowed him mair abundantly then any King that ever did raigne in this land) against that godlies, unnaturall and beastlie Custome, did devise and establish a maist godlie, just and prudent Law and Ordinance for the courte to be observed, for removing upon equitable and just conditions the deadlie feads, whilk then stude in great number betwene the maist powerfull subjects in this Kingdome and their kinsmen, assisters and partakers: In the execution whereof, God having miraculousslie assisted his Majesties maist haillie and just intention after exceeding great care and paines taine by his Majestie in tryall of the originall causes of the saids discords, the true circumstances of the injuries and losses sustained by either partie, and in prescrying due satisfaction to be indifferentlie made for redres of all by past harmes and wrangs. His Majesties admirable constancie hes sa overcome all difficulties, that the haill knawne feuds within the Kingdome being now removed by perfite reconciliation, and just contentment of all parties having interest therein, his Majesties haill subjects finds sik joy and happines in the sweet frutes of his wisdom and providence exprest in that case; that they earnestlie wish that his Majestie wha hes sa cairfullie exterminate that abhominable pest of deadlie feads, may in his singulare wisdom finde meanes for ever to prevent the reviving of that monster. Wherein his Majestie considering that nothing gave sa great growth and strength to that by past Barbaritie, as the slouth of Magistrates in not suppressing the first seeds of these diffentions, whilk being small and weak in the beginning, for Peers, Turves, Devits, Fold-dykes, poynding, neighbourlie marches, injurious words or light brawles were then easilie to be settled, if diligence and authoritie had bene joyned for repressing thereof, whilk being neglected by these to whom it appertained; these light jarres and insolencies did very oft kinde sik flames of disorder, diffention, rankor and feed, as in many yeares with great streames of blood, desolation and ruine of great and auncient houses and races could hardlie be quenched. For remeed whereof his Majestie and Estates foresaid, Ratifies and approves the former Act made by his Heighnes, for abolishing deadlie feodes in every head, clause and Artickle theteof. And farther, statutes and ordeines, that in every Schyre within this Kingdome there shall be yearlie appoynted by his Majestie some godlie, wyse and vertuous Gentlemen of good qualitie, moeyen and report, making residence within the same, in sik number as the bounds of the Schyre shall requyre, to be Commissioners for keeping his Majesties peace, to whom his

Majestie with advyce of the Lords of his privie Councell shall give power and commission to oversee, try and prevent all sik occasions as may breed trouble and violence amongst his Majesties subjects, or forceable contempt of his Majesties authoritie and breach of his peace. And to command all persons in whom they shall see manifest intencion to make trouble or disorder, either by gathering together of ydle and disorderlie persons, or by publick bearing or wearing of Pistols or other forbidden weapons, and sik other ryotous and swaggering behaviour; to binde themselves and finde caution under competent paines to observe his Majesties peace, and for their compareance before his Majesties Justice or Lords of his privie Councell, to underly sik order as shall be found convenient for punishing their transgressions or staying of troubles and enormities. And if need shall be, to requyre the duetifull and obedient subjects of the Shyre to concurre with them in preventing all sik contempts and violences, or for taking or warding of the wilfull and disobedient authors, committers and fosterers of these crymes and disorders under sik competent arbitrarie paines as his Majestie and Lords of his privie Councell shall appoynt for the offenders, and sik of the Countrie as being requyred shall not give their readie and asaid concurrence to his Majesties Commissioners in the premises, whereby the ordinarie Magistrats and Officiares within the Shyres, may be the better assisted, and their absence, imployments or other impediments mair commodiously supplied, without derogation of their jurisdiction or want of readie comfort and Justice to the obedient subjects within the bounds thereof. Ordaining also the saids Commissioners to give true advertisement and information to the Lords of his Majesties privie Councell, Justice generall and his deputies, his Majesties Thesaurer and other Magistrats and officers whom it effects, of the names of sik faithfull and unsuspect witnesses and assysers to be summoned in all crymes and disorders whilk shall happen or fall forth within the saids Shyres, as shall be known to be maist meet and able for tryell and probation of the same, and for eschewing that sik as are either aged, feiklie or unable to travell, or ignorant of the facts to be tryed, be not unjustlie vexed or unnescessarie drawne from their awne houses and affaires, for matters wherein they are not able to give any light.

8. Act of the apparel of Judges, Magistrats and Kirk-men.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estaites of this present Parliament, finding by daylie experience that the greannes of his Majesties Empyre, magnificence of his Court, fame of his Wisdome and Justice, and of the civilitie of his subjects, hes already begun to allure divers foraine Princes, and other strangers of all Estaites to make mair frequent repair to this Countrie, nor ever they did in any preceeding age. Whilk resort of strangers will by all appearance baith continue, and daylie mair and mair increase; and by rhem na doubt, report will go through all the world of the Estait and governement of the Kingdome, according to the order whilk they shall see observed within the same. Whereof the rules and good exemple flowing from the Estaites of Parliament and Magistrats, to the haill remanent subjects of the Realme, it is maist necessary that sik gravitie and comelines be used by the Lords and Commissioners of Parliament, and others Magistrats in their apparell and behaviour, as may best deserve the good report and true commendation of all Princes, Noble-men and others strangers, wha shall have occasion to see and relate the same. The respect whereof, having induced his Majestic to preserve to the Nobilitie apparell for the Parliament becoming their honourable Estait. And understanding that the remanent members of that heigh Court have not reformed themselves to the like convenience, neither yet that the course intended by his Majestic for discharging Noblemen and Gentle-men to be elected Provosts and Magistrats of Burrowes (whereof nane should be capable but Burgesse, actual traffickers and inhabitants of the said burrowes) hes nae sik effect as is maist necessary for preservation of the liberties and good estate of the saids Burrowes, and hindering the dissipation of their common good and perverting of their privilegedges. For remed whereof, his Majestic with advyse of the Estaites of his Heighnes Parliament, statuts and ordains that na man shall in any time coming be capable of Provell or other Magistracie within any Burgh of this Realme, nor to be elected to any of the saids offices within a Burgh, but Marchants and actual traffickers inhabiting within the saids Burghs allanerlie, and na others. And that the saids Magistrats of Burrowes to be hereafter elected, and their Commissioners of Parliament, shall have and weare at Parliament, Conventions and other solemne tymes and meetings when the dignitie shall requyre it, sik comlie and decent apparell as his Majestic shall preservey convenient for their rank and estate, whereby they may be discerned from other common Burgesse, and be mair revered by the people subject to their charge. And because a comlie, decent and orderlie habite and apparell in the Judges of the land, is not onely ane ornament to themselves (being a badge and marke for distinguishing them from the vulgar sort) but the same also breads in common people that reverence and regarde that is due and proper for men in these places. And this being a custome universallie observed almost through all Europe, the want whereof is greatly censured by strangers resorting in these parts. The saids Estaites therefore upon infinite proves they have of his Majesties maist singulare wisdome in all his directions, & of his gracious love & affection to this his native Kingdome, have in all humilitie referred to his Heighnes awne appoyntment the assigning of any sik severall sort of habite and vestiment as shall be in his Majesties Judgment maist meet and proper, as well for Lords of Session being the supreme Judges in Civill actions, as for all other inferior Judges of thelyke causes. As also for the Criminal & Ecclesiasticall Judges, & for Advocats, Lawyers & all others living by Law and practise thereof; that sa every one of these people may be known and dignosed in their place, calling and function, & may be accordinglie regarded and respected. what slander and contempt hes arisen to the Ecclesiastical Estate of this Kingdome by the occasion of the light and undecent apparell used by some of that profession, and cheeflie these having vote in Parliament. It is therefore statute that every Preacher of Gods word shall hereafter weare black, grave and comelie apparrell befitting men of their estate and profession. As lykwyse that all Priors, Abbots and Prelats having vot in Parliament, and speciallie Bishops, shall weare grave and decent apparell agreeable to their function, and as appertaines to men of their rank, dignitie and place. And because the haill Estaites humble and thankfulie acknowledges that GOD of his great mercy hes made the people and subjects of this Countrie fahappie as to have a King raigne over us, wha is maist godlie, wyse and religious; hating all erroneous and yaine superstition, just in government, and of lang experience therein, knowing better then any King living what appertains and is convenient for every estate in their behaviour and duetie. Therefore it is agreed and consented to by the saids Estaites, that what order sa ever his Majestie in his great wisedome shall thinke meet to prescribe for the apparell of Kirk-men agreeable to their estate and moeyen; the same being sent in writ by his Majestie to his Clerk of Register, shall be a sufficient warrant to him for inserting thereof in the Buikes of Parliament to have the strength and effect of ane act thereof, with executorialis of horning to be direct there-upon, against sik persons as within the space of fourtie dayes after the publication or intimation to them of the said act or charges used against them there-upon, shall not provyde themselves of the apparrell to be appointed by his Majestie for men of their vocation and estate, to be used and worne by them and their successors at the tymes, and in maner to be expressed in the said act to be made by his Heighnes there-anent.

9. Act against skandalous speeches and lybels.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD foreseeing that there is nothing sa necessare for the perpetual well and quyetnesse of all his subjects of this Monarchie as the furtherance and accomplishment of the union of his two famous and maist auncient Kingdomes of Scotland and England, whereof his Majestie out of his fatherlie care of the peace and happines of his good and faithfull people, having maist instantlie and earnestlie solicited the perfection, and by the assistance of the worthiest members of bauch Kingdomes, sa effectually advanced the same, as he hopes (God willing) in his Reigne to see the wished end of that great work, while in his royal person hes received sa miraculous and happy a beginning: And nevertheles finding therein sik malicious lets, as the devill and his supposts do usually suggestt, to the hindrance of all just and godlie inter-privies, specially by the false and calumnious brutes, speeches and writs, craftelie uttered and dispersed by some lawles and faulces people of this Realme, aswell in privat conferences as in their meetings at tavernes, ail-houses and playes, and by their pasquils, lybels, rymes, cockalans, comedies and siklike occasions whereby they slander, maligne and revile the people, estate and countrie of England, and divers his Majesties honorable Counsellors, Magistrats and worthie subjects of that his Majesties Kingdome. The continuance wherof being able to incense the people of England to just grief and discontentment, may not only hinder the intended union of all the good subjects of this Monarchie, but stir up in them sik irreconcilable evill will, as with time might bring forth maist dangerous and harmfulfull effects. For remedie and preventing whereof, his Majestie remembreing how strait and severe punishment lies by the Lawes and acts of his maist Royall Progenitors Kings of this Realme heretofore bene ordained to be inflicted upon sik as should devise or utter false and slanderous speeches and writtes to make dissensions betwene the Prince and his subjects, or raise sedition in the Realme; and considering that all sik purposes and writtes as may breed dysliking betwene the inhabitants of the saids Kingdomes of Scotland and England, being now all become his Majesties Leige-people, equallie subject and equallie beloved of his Heighnes; tends to maist dangerous dissention and sedition amangs his subjects. Therefore his Majestie with advyce and consent of the haill Estaites of this Parliament, statutes and ordeins, that whatsoever shall hereafter by word or write, devise, utter or publish any false, slanderous or reprochfull speeches or writtes of the Estate, People or Countrie of England, or of any Counsellor thereof, tending to the remembrance of the auncient grudges borne in tyme of by-past troubles, (the occasion wherof is now happilie abolished by the blessed conjunction of the saids Kingdomes under his Majesties Sovereignitie and obedience) or to the hindrance of the wished accomplishment of the perfect union of the saids Kingdomes, or to the slander or reproch of the Estate, people or Countrie of England, or dishonour or prejudice of any Counsellor of the said Kingdome, whereby hatred may be softed and entertained, or misliking raised betwene his Majesties faithfull subjects of this Isle. The authors of sik seditious, slanderous and injurious speeches or writtes, or dispersers thereof, after tryell taken of their offence, either before his Majesties Justice, or the Lords of his Heighnes privie Councell, shall be severelie punished in their persons and goods, by imprisonment, banishment, fynyng or mair rigorous corporall paine, as the qualitie of the offence shall be found to merite at his Majesties pleasure. And all sik as hearing or getting knowledge of any sik speeches or writtes, shall conceal the same, and nor reveale them to his Majesties ordinarie officers, Magistrats or Counsellors, whereby the authors and dispersers thereof may be punished, shall underly the lyke tryell and paine.

FORSAMEIKLE As the Kings Majestie is resolved to purge the middle-shayres of this Isle, heretofore called the Borders of Scotland and England of that barbarous crueltie, wickednes and incivillie

whilk be inveterat custome was almaiſt become naturall to many of the inhabitants thereof, and to reduce them to the knowledge, love and feare of God, reverence of his Majesties authoritie, obedience of his lawes and due tie to their Neighbors; for accomplishing of that maiſt Royal designe, made chuse of one to be Commissioner in these bounds, whom by many assured proofes in former employments of greatest consequence, his Majestie knew to be indued with all qualites necessarie for ſa weigite a charge; wha following preceitlie the rules of his Majesties maiſt prudent directions, and using all poſſible diligence and dexteritie in prosecution thereof, made ſa happeie progresſe in that good courſe, as juſtlie puniſhing the maiſt perverſed and rebellious ring-leaders (whais amendment was desperate) and transporting others of them forth of this Ile, the rest were brought to very ſetled quyernes and obedience of his Majesties lawes, a very few number of out-lawes onely excepted, wha being ſa earnestlie ſearched and perſued in these bounds, as all hope of eſcaping and langer impunitie was taken from them; they have by maiſt ſubtle and craftie means by changing their names, and diſſembling the place of their nativitie, convoyed themſelves in the in-countries of this Realme, and inſinuated themſelves in ſervice with Noble-men and others of good qualitie, not only therby eſchewing their deſerved puniſhment, but alſo abuſing and harming his Majesties good ſubjects by their darned ſtoutis in the in-country transported, reſet and quyetlie ſold in the bounds of the late Borders. And again ſtealing geir forth thereof and out of the bounds of these middle-ſhyres, and outting and ſelling the ſame in the in-countries. Beſides that, others of the ſaids out-lawes have bene allured and had reſet and overſight in the in-countries by ſome men of rank and power to be instruments and executors of ſik revenge and miſchief againſt theſe to whom they beare malice, grudge or quarrell; whilk for fear of his Majesties lawes and authority they durſt not attempt by themſelves. For remed whereof, his Majestie with advyce and conſent of the Eſtates of Parliament, ſtatutes and ordains that na man ſhall hereafter either receave or retene any man borne or lang habituate in the late Borders in his ſervice or company, or upon his lands unleſſe he have certaine knowledge or a true and authentick teſtimonial of his Majesties great Commissioner of the late Borders or his deputies, of the ſaid Border-mans true name and ſurname, place of his nativitie and report of his trueth and lawtie, and that he is no knowne malefactor, but reput a dueſtull and obedient ſubject, under the paine to incur the danger, and to be made anſwerable civile and eriminalle to his Majestie and all his lawfull ſubjects for all actions and crimes whilk might be any wyſe laid to the charge of the ſaids broken-men, for any cauſe or occaſion either preceding or during the tyme of their receaving or retaining them in their ſervice, companie or upon their lands, as if the reſetter had committed the ſaids faults himſelfe. As lykwyſe, becauſe ſome wha are not known to have committed any haynous offence in their awne perſon obteining teſtimonial of their name, birth and good report, may give the ſame to broken-men to be uſed by them in places where they are not known. It is ſtatute and ordained that whaſoever ſhall either give his teſtimonial to any man, whereby it may be abuſed by another nor him to whom it was truelie granted; or wha ſhall falſlie uſe another mans teſtimonial, or wha ſhall forge to himſelfe or uſe a falſe teſtimonial in the premiſſes, ſhall be puniſhed to the death. And to the effect his Majesties faithfull and obedient ſubjects may have the better knowledge of the ſaids fugitives and broken men, and that ſik as reſet them may want all pretext and excuſe of ignorance, It is ſtatute and ordained that a Roll ſhall be made by his Majesties great Commissioner of the middle ſhyres, containing the names of the ſaids rebels, fugitives, out-lawes and broken men, with the maiſt notor and evident marks and deſcription of their age, ſtature, colour and other tokens whereby they may be maiſt eaſily and readily known. And being imprinted ſhall be ſent to the Schirefs and Magiſtrates of the in-countries, and proclaimed at the market Croſſes of the head Burrowes of the ſhyres, and other places needfull. And thereafter be publickly affixed upon the ſaids Croſſes or Tolbuiths of the ſaids Burrowes. After whilk publication, It is ſtatute that the contraveiners of this Act or any head or article of the ſame ſhall be rigorouſly puniſhed in their perſons and goods in maner foreſaid.

II. Act in favours of the Lords of Seſſion of ten thouſand pounds to be given to them yearly.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Eſtates of Parliament, having for juſt and neceſſaire reſpects concerning the preſervation of this Eſtate and cheefe members thereof, reſtored the Biſhops, being now the onely remanent of the Kirk Eſtate having vote in Parliament, to their livings, jurisdictions and place. And finding by experience that they will be altogether unhablie wothelie to diſcharge their duties in that honourable ranke, unleſſe they be provided of ſufficient maintenance, not onely for bearing the privat charges of their families, but alſo to ſuſtein the great burdings of their waightie employments at Parliaments, conventions, and other publick affairs concerning his Majesties ſervice and general weall of the Countrie; heſ earnestlie delt with the Lords of his Majesties Councell and Seſſion, to conſent that the Quotes of the haill Teſtaments within this Kingdome, whilkis did juſtlie pertain to the ſaids Seſſion be lawfull gifts and diſpoſitions thereof, granted to them by his Majestie and his predeceſſours, and ratified in Parliament, might be diſpoſed to the ſaids Biſhops, every one of them within their awne Dioceſes, and be poſſeſſed by them in tyme coming. Wherein the ſaids Lords of Seſſion preferring their affection and zeale every way to grant ſatisfaction to his Majestie, to their awne profite and preſent ſuretie, heſ maiſt humble yielded. And his Majestie being alwyſe of minde and intention to remunerat his ſaids faithfull, truſtie and obedient Counſellers and their ſuccceſſours for their willing obedience to this his Majesties deſire, in diſmiſſion and renunciation of the ſaid said Quore silver, they being the onely ordinarie supreme Judges of this Realme, for administration of Justice, and interteinement of policie and peace within the same, whilk necessarie requyrs their dayly and continual presence and attendance, preferring the publick good and weall of the Realme, in the administration of Justice indifferently to his Majesties Leiges, to their awne privat and domestical affaires; and in the meane tyme are forced to spend their awne patrimonie and rent in the said publick weall of the Realme. And his Majestie having now by special instructions proponed to the saids Estaites of Parliament, the saids great and faithfull services done to his Heighnes, and for the common weall of the Realme of Scotland in particular, by his saids right trustie and familiare Counsellers, the saids Lords and Senators of his Heighnes Colledge of Justice, in yeelding and granting to his Heighnes special desire, to furrander and over give from them the said Quore silver of the Testaments, being the maist and best part of their patrimonie, to and in favours of the saids Archbishops and Bishops of this Realme, for the helpe and supplie of their Estate, as is before said. And the saids Estaites of this present Parliament having there-upon, taken full tryell and verification, they have found, tried, censured and judged; lyke as they presentlie finde, censure and judges the same to be, and to have bene great, seene, reasonable and profitable causes for the weall of his Majestie, and of the said Realme of Scotland. As also, his Heighnes and Estaites foresaid, findes, decernes and declares, that his Majestie with their advyce and consent may for the saids seene, profitable and reasonable causes, whilks they have knowne and tried to be for the seene weall of his Majestie and Realme, as said is, give, assigne or dispose any part of the patrimonie of his Majesties annexed proprietie of the Crowne to the saids ordinarie Lords and Senators of the Colledge of Justice and their Successors, Senators of the Colledge of Justice in recompence to them of the saids Quores of testaments, furrandered by them and over-given at his Majesties desire and command; to and in favours of the saids Estaites of Bishops, and that in sik manner, forme and sure conditions as his Majestie best pleases for their securitie. And to that effect that the annexation of these parts of the said patrimonie of the Crown, that ar to be assigned and disposed to the saids Lords and ordinarie Senators of the said Colledge of Justice and their successours Senators, shall be simpliciter dissolved from the Crowne, so that they may be given, assigned and disposed to the saids ordinarie Lords and Senators of the said Colledge of Justice and their successours Senators perpetuallie in all tyme coming. And the saids Estaites being typlic and gravelie advysed what his Majestie may give and dispose to the saids Lords and Senators and their successours with the least detriment to his Heighnes Crowne and yearlie rent. The saids Estaites all in ane voyce, have found and declared, and by the tenor hereof findes and declares, that the customes of this his Heighnes Realme of Scotland, annexed to the Crown, may with the least detriment to his Majestie, or hurt to the rent or revenew of the Crowne, for the seene causes above expressed, be given, assigned and disposed by his Majestie to the saids ordinarie Lords and Senators of his Heighnes Colledge of Justice and their successours Senators in maist ample forme. And to that effect, his Majestie and Estaites foresaid of Parliament, dissolves, annulles and infringes the annexation of the customes of this Realme of Scotland to the Crowne, from the said Crowne and patrimonie thereof; in so far as the same may be extended to the summe of ten thousand pounds, of the first, readiest, maist sure and best payment of the saids customes allanerlie. And now after the said dissolution, his Majestie and Estaites foresaid of this present Parliament, hes given, granted, assigned and disposed, and by the rennor hereof, for the seene causes foresaid, gives, grants, assigns and disposes to the saids ordinarie Lords and Senators of his Heighnes Colledge of Justice; and their successours possessing the ordinarie places of the said Judicatorie and Colledge of Justice perpetuallie in all tyme coming. All and hail the summe of ten thousand pounds, usall money of Scotland, in recompence to them of the said Quore silver of Testaments, over-given by them at his Majesties desire, for the support of the said estate of Bishops, to be uptaken, uplifted and received by them, and their collectors to be appointed by them in their names yearlie at twa termes in the year, Whit-fonday and Martin-mes in Winter by even portions, forth of the readiest and best payment of his Majesties customes of the said Realme of Scotland, or any part thereof from his Majesties Comptrollers, tack-men, possessours and intrometers with the saids customes, and others addetted in payment thereof, now present and that shall happen to be for the tyme, to be distributed amongst them in sik forme as heretofore they were accustomed in devyding of the said Quore silver. Charging herefore the said Comptroller and tack-men, possessours and intrometers with the saids customes of the said Realme of Scotland or any part thereof, and others addetted in payment of the same now present, and that shall happen to be for the tyme; to readilie answer, content, obey and make thankfull payment of the foresaid yearlie summe of ten thousand pounds yearlie money foresaid, to the saids ordinarie Lords and Senators of the said Colledge of Justice and their successours, and their collectors in their names; forth of the readiest and best payment of the saids customes; and that they be preferred in payment thereof to all and whatsover other person or persons pretending right to the saids customes, or any part thereof by pension, assignation, gift or other right or disposition whatomever. Beginning the first termes payment of the same, at the said feast and terme of Martin-mes next to come, and so forth yearlie and termlic thereafter at the termes foresaid, perpetuallie in all tyme coming; whilk shall be thankfullie allowed to the payers, they taking the saids Lords and Senators or collectors acquirances and discharges to shaw upon compt for their warrant in the

And at the decease or demission of the saids Comptroller or tacksmen, that the new intrants shall become acted to the effect foresaid of new, and that caution be founden by the said Comptroller and tacksmen at the setting of the saids tacks to the effect foresaid; otherwyse the saids tacks to be null, and the nullitie thereof to be decyded by way of exception or action at their pleasure. And that letters and executiorials of horning simpliciter, may be direct upon ane simple charge of ten dayes against them, be deleriance of the saids Lords and Senators of the Colledge of Justice, for payment of the foresaid summe of ten thousand pounds yearlie and termlic, at the termes forsaids. And his Majestie and Estaites foresaids, decernes and ordeins, that na suspension shall be granted for suspending of the saids letters, at the instance of whatsomever partie or person addetted in payment of the foresaid summe in any tyme comming, for whatsomever cause or reason by the Lords of Parliament, nor by the Lords of Checker, or other Judges whatsomever, except upon consignation of the summes, or upon production of sufficient acquittances of payment of the summes where-with they are charged. And that the saids ordinarie Lords and Senators of the said Colledge of Justice, are and shall be onely judges ordinarie for discussing of the saids suspensions; discharging all others Judges whatsomever of all granting of suspensions in any cause concerning the premisses and discussing of the famine by any manner of way, and of their offices in that part for ever. And to the foresaid disposition and assignation of the foresaid summe of ten thousand pounds, to be payed yearlie and termlic forth of his Heighnes customes forsaids, first, readiest and best payment of the famine, to the saids ordinarie Lords and Senators of the said Colledge of Justice and their successours forsaids perpetuallie in all tyme comming as is above expreffed; His Majestie and Estaites forsaids of Parliament, hes interponed and interpones their consent and autoritie, as that deed whilk shall be now and in all tymes hereafter esteemed and judged for the weall of OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and for the common weall and estate of the Realme of Scotland. And his Majestie for his Heighnes and his successours promits in verbo Principis, never to impugne nor quarrell the famine, nor come in the contrare hereof directlie nor indirectlie in any tyme comming.

And speciallic that the restitution of forfaitured persons, pretending themselves Patrons of benefices, either by his Majesties gracious favour, pardon or rehabilitation, or by reduction of their forfaitours shall not be ane occasion to subvert the estate of these wha obtained lawfull provision of any of the saids benefices by presentation, or gift of the Kings Majestie, or others to whom his Heighnes disponed the right of Patronage thereof, during the forfaitour standing of the other pretended patron, whais cryme could neither be any reason to make the vaickand benefice not to be disponed; neither should his restitution or reduction be ane occasion to trouble the titulaire thereof, seeing the sleuth or negligence of ane lawfull Patron and faithfull subject, not presenting within sex moneths to the benefice vaickand whereof he is Patron, makes him for that tyme to amitt his right of Patronage; whilk Jure devoluto falling to the Kirk, the person provyded by them, hes undoubted right thereto during his lifyme. And therefore his Majestie with the advyce and consent of the Estaites of Parliament, statutes and ordeins, that all these wha are either already provyded, or shall hereafter be provyded by his Majestie to any of the saids benefices, whereof the Patronage is fallen to his Heighnes, by forfaitour, or by any other to whom his Majestie hes disponed the right of Patronage of any sik benefices, and by vertue thereof have obtained letters conforme to their provision, with lawfull and peaceable possession of the frutes thereof by the space of divers yeares, that all sik persons shall be maintained in their said right and possession of the saids benefices and frutes thereof, during their lifyme. And shall nowyse be quarrelled, troubled nor molested by the saids forfaitured persons, or their heires, successours or posteritie, being rehabilitated, restored, or their forfaitours reduced, nor by na other persons having right disposition or presentation from them; but that the saids beneficed persons during the said forfaitour, and by vertue thereof become in possession of the saids benefices in manner above written; shall peaceablie enjoy, bruike and possesse the famine benefices, haill frutes, rents, rights, commodities and priviledges thereof, as freelie, peaceablie and righteously as if the saids Patrons had never bene forfaitured, and had lawfullie presented, themselves, but prejudice to the saids Patrons being restored, and their heires and successours to recover their right of patronage

Patronage of the saids benefices, and to use and exerce the same by due and tymous presentation of habile and qualified persons to the saids benefices whereof they are patrons, whensoever they shall vaik by demission or decaise of the present titulars and na otherwyse.

13. Act anent the Egyptians.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estaites of Parliament, Ratifies, approves and perpetual-

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, with advise and consent of the Estates of Parliament, Staturs and ordeins that if any being airt or part of Ravishing of Weemen, be persued for that heynous offence and defend themselves be the subsequent consent of the woman Ravished, or be her declaration that shee went With them of her awne frie-will and consent (albeit in that case the womans declaration of her consent may exime them from Capitall punishment.) Providing alwayes, that there is and shall be necessarily requisite to the validitie of any Act, conclusion, ordinance and determination of the saids Commissioners, the conjunct assent of five of every one of the saids foure Estates, all agreeing together in ane voice, without the power to make any valide or effectual conclusion by vertue of this present Commissioun, but whatsoever shall be otherways done, is declared to be of no availe, force nor effect. That is to say,

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD & Estates of Parliament by the tenour hereof, gives, grants, & commits full power & authoritie to the saids Commissioners to meet and convene in the Town of Edinburgh, at sik time and times as they shall appoint and finde convenient, and there to call and summond before them, all Patrons, Tacksmen of teinds great and small, and all others having right by whatsoever title to the Teinds within this this Kingdome, as they shall think necessar and expedient to exhibite and produce before them their rights and titles, whereby they claime the saids teinds to be seene and considered be the saids Commissioners. With power to them out of the saids teinds of every Parochin, to appoint and assigne at their discretions ane perpetual local stipend to the Ministers present and to come at all Kirks that shall be found by them either as yet not provided at all, with Ministers and stipends, or where the provision is lesse nor five hundreth marks of yearlie rent in money, or five Chalders victual (by manse and gleibe) or six proportion particularly of silver and victual, as will effeire and extend to five hundreth Marks or five Chalders victual yearly, & which is the least and the meanest stipend and provision determinate, appointed, and declared by his Majesty and Estates, to be given and assigned to any Minister for his local stipend in time coming, where the fruits of the Benefice will extend to that quantitie in maner under-written, and that notwithstanding of any right or title pretended by the said Tackf-men, or others in whose favours Teinds have been erected, With special power also to the saids Commissioners, to unite six Kirks, ane or moe as may conveniently be unite, Where the fruits of any one alone will not suffice to entertain ane Minister. In the which case of union of six Kirks, if it fall out that necessitie offer to unite Kirks belonging to the presentation of divers Patrons, the presentation of the Ministers shall be appointed by the saids Commissioners to pertain to the Patrons (alternis vicibus) to the which Commissioners his Majestie and the Estates does recommend and refer to consider and appoint farther six solide order as may be best taken, and stand with the least prejudice of any of the Patrons, and as they shall be found to have more or lesse intrest in the Kirks to be so united. It is alwayes provided, that whereas there are divers Kirks whereof the fruits of any one will not extend to the quantity of five Chalders victual, nor five hundreth marks of silver in yearly commoditie, and that the rents and whole patrimonie thereof are nowayes answerable to that proportion, and so is not sufficient the alone for the full maintenance of ane Minister, and yet nevertheless for distance of place, or other lawfull causes may be found inconvenient to be united, whereby necessary will evince, that every Kirk in that estate, should be planted with their own particular Minister to serve thereat, whose provision behooves necessarily to consist of the fruits of the Benefice itself, how mean soever the same be.

THEFORE IT IS Declared that it shall be sufficient to the saids Commissioners in that case to assigne & appoint to the Minister to be planted at any six Kirks the whole fruits pertaining to the Patrimony thereof, by and attour his manse & gleibe. Which fruits are to be enjoyed by him and his successours thereafter, as their perpetual Local stipend and provision. And to the end the said Commission may take the better effect, and for ane solide order anent the provision of the saids Kirks, with their certaine definite stipend, and that it may be clearly known what shall be the proportion and quantitie of any stipend, which shall be hereafter appointed to every Minister, at any Kirk, either not provided at all, or not sufficiently provided, as said is.

OUR Sovereigne LORD and Estates Declares, that the least and meanest stipend which they have appointed to be hereafter provided by the saids Commissioners to any Minister shall not be under and within the quantitie of five chalders victuall, or five hundreth marks of money, or proportionally part of victual, and part thereof in money, according as the fruits and rents of the Kirk may yeeld and afford, and as the saids Commissioners shall think expedient, effeirend to the saids five chalders victual, or five hundreth marks money, by and attour their manse and gleibe, where the whole fruits of the Kirk will extend to the quantitie foresaid, and that the greatest and most stipend which the saids Commissioners shall have power to assigne for stipend to any Minister at any of the saids Kirks, either not planted or planted, and provided with stipends within and under the said five chalders victuall, or five hundreth marks of money, as said is, shall not exceed the quantitie of Ten chalders victuall, or ane Thousand marks of money, and proportionally part of money, and part of victuall, at the consideration of the saids Commissioners, as they shall finde by examination of the rents of the Kirk most conveniently may be payed by and attour their manse and gleibe. Swa the greatest shall be ane Thousand marks, or Ten chalders victuall with manse and gleibe, and the least five hundreth marks, or five chalders of victual, with manse and gleibe, except where the whole fruits of the Kirks will not extend to that quantitie, as said is. And finds and declares, that all Kirks which are planted with Ministers, whose stipends extends to five chalders victuall, or five hundreth marks of silver or part of both effeirend to the whole by their manse and gleib, (the same being made sure to them) are expressly excepted out of this Commission, and no wayes comes under the compasse thereof, neither shall the saids Commissioners have any power by vertue hereof to meddle with any Kirks or stipends which are in that case, seeing the said Commission is not extended to the same. IT IS also provided, that where any Kirks are already sufficiently provided, albeit their provision does exceed the foresaid quantitie of ten chalders victuall, or ane thousand marks of money, And als where the fruits of any Benefice are in the possession of the Minister, that the same shall be continued in the estate wherein it is at the present, and not to be medled with by vertue of the said Commission. And because reason and equity craves, that recompence should be made unto the Tackf-men and others persons whatsover, who shall be by the sentence of the saids Commissioners hurt and prejudged of their present profit, which they may lawfully bruike by vertue of their titles and rights, established in their persons, and upon whom by vertue of the said sentence, any burden of the sustentation and provision of the saids Kirks and Ministers is to be imposed.

Therefore OUR said Sovereigne LORD and Estates of Parliament gives full power and commission to the saids Commissioners, so to proceed in the determining of the saids recompences, That is case the Lord or any other having right to erected Prelacies, who shall be cited before them, refuse to take the burden of plantation of any Kirks belonging to the saids erected Prelacies, which are nor planted, or to help fik other Kirks of the same, as are not well and sufficiently provided, according to the tennour of the foresaid Commission, and that upon their refusal (the said refusal being first found reasonable by the saids Commissioners) the burden of the said plantation, or farther provision, shall be laid and imposed by the saids Commissioners, in whole, or in part, either upon the principal Tacksmen of any of the fruits of the saids Kirks. Or in case if the Tacksmen refuse, the burden be imposed upon the Sub-tacksmen thereof, the saids Commissioners shall have power to decree, appoint, and ordein fik particular recompence to be given to the saids Tacksmen, or Sub-tacksmen, by renewing of their tacks or sub-tacks, after the expiring thereof, upon fik conditions as the saids Commissioners shall finde reasonable, respect being had to the qualitie and proportion of the burden to be imposed upon them within the time of their tacks and rights, farther then they are affected by their saids rights, or by appointing fik other reasonable satisfaction as they shall finde the said burden and distresse undergone by any of them, shall deserve and require.

Lykeas the saids Commissioners shall have siklike powcr to determine, decree and appoint fik particular satisfaction and recompence to be given either to laick Patrons, or to the Tacksmen of the fruits of the Kirks belonging to the like Patronages and Sub-tacksmen thereof, as they shall think may be answerable to the burdens to be imposed upon either of them for the cause above-written proportionally. In the preserying of the which recompence, the saids Commissioners shall have special respect, what consideration they finde reasonable to be given to the saids Patrons for their consents to the tacks, if any shall be appointed and decreed to be set and given to the saids tacksmen for recompence foresaid. And if any beneficed person upon just and reasonable causes, refuses to provide any Kirk belonging to their Benefice, according to the order hereby preseryed, whereby the burden of plantation, or farther provision of the Kirk, must necessarily lye upon the Tacksmen or Sub-tacksmen of the fruits thereof. The saids Commissioners in that case also shall decree fik recompence to be given to the saids Tacksmen and Sub-tacksmen for their losse and prejudice sustained, as the saids Commissioners shall finde the same shall merit, by renewing of tacks to them upon fik conditions as may requite their losse, or by finding out some other reasonable meane which may repair the same. And OUR said Sovereigne LORD, with advice and consent of the saids Estates, Declares, Statutes and Ordeins, That all tacks which shall be decreed by the saids Commissioners to be given in recompence to any person whatomever for the causes above-written, and which shall be set for obedience, and conforme to the said decret and sentence; whatomever yeares, or long space the saids tacks shall comprehend, shall be good, lawful, and sufficient securities to the persons in whose favours the same are appointed to be given and conceived, neither shall the same be any wayes prejudged by the Act made in this present Parliament, by the which it is statute that no Archbishop, Bishop, or Prelate should set in tack any part of their patrimonie for longer space nor nineteen yeares, and that no inferiour Beneficed person shall set in tack any part of their Benefice for longer space nor their awne life-times, and five yeares thereafter, as the said Statute propors, fra the which Statute, the saids tacks so appointed to be set and given in recompence, are and shall be excepted and reserved, and shall no wayes come under the compasse of the said Act and Statute, nor any thing therein contained, but the same shall remaine and abide valide and sufficient rights for the whole space and yeares appointed therein according to the tenour thereof notwithstanding of the said Act and Statute.

AND because it may fall furth rhat in the recompens to be appointed by the Commissioners to the Patrons, Tacksmen, & Sub-tacksmen for the foresaid burding to be imposed upon them, moe yeares may be assigned for prorogation of their present tacks nor may lawfullie or conveniently be set be the present beneficed persons to whom be Law the setting of tacks of Teinds belongs. FOR remeid thereof OUR Sovereigne LORD with advise & consent of the saids Estates Declares, Statuts and Ordeins, That it shall be lawful to the Commissioners foresaid to appoint als many yeares after the expyryng of the present tacks to the tacksmen of the saids Kirks and Teinds or to the Patrons or sub-tacksmen respective for bruiking of the saids teinds for recompence of the said burding as they shall think reasonable, which shall be als good, valid and sufficient rights to the saids Patrons tacksmen & sub-tacksmen respective, and to their heirs and assignayes, for bruiking and possessing and disposing upon the saids teinds during the saids yeares of prorogation, as if good, lawful and valide tacks and rights of the saids teinds had been set and made to them be the Titulars of the benefices to whom the same belonged, with consent of all parties having entresse. With expresse provision and declaratione that at the expyryng of all the saids yeares, the right of the saids teinds and power to set tacks thereof, shall returne and appertain to the saids Titulars of the foresaid Benefices, as they did before the making of this present Act.

And OUR said Sovereigne LORD, with advice of the saids Estates, Declares and ordeins this Commission to last and endure to the feast and term of Lambes, in the year of God one thousand six hundredth and eighteen yeares. After the which time the same shall cease and expire. And Ordeins the decret and sentence of the saids Commissioners in all the particulars foresaid, and every one of them, to have the strength, force and authoritie of any decret sentence, and Act of Parliament. For obedience whereof the Lords of Session shall direct and grant Letters in forme as effeirs, and according as shall be necessar, Which Commission above-written, taking force and full effect in all the saids particulars therein contained, as the same are set down and comprehended therein, by pronounciation of decret and sentence upon the same, conforme to the power therein comprehended, given to the saids Commissioners.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD with the expresse consent and assent of the Estates in that case, Findes and declares, that no person in whose favours the teinds of Kirks and Benefices are erected, nor no other whatfomever bruiking teinds; by vertue of Rights lawfully made to them of the same, according to the Lawes of this Realme then standing, shall be ever farther altered or quarrelled in any of their saids Rights, in any time to come, farther then shall be appointed by the said decret and sentence to follow upon this present Commission; but the saids rights and securities in-case fore said, shall remain in the awne strength, force and effect, as good, lawful, and sufficient rights and securities to them and every anc of them for their awne parts, for bruiking and enjoying the saids teinds, conforme to the tennour of the saids rights, for now and ever.
